WORLD FLYERS ON WAY TO SAN FRANCISCO!

New York Again Beats Pittsburgh, 5 To 4

PIRATES LOSE CHANCE TO STAY IN CONTEST

Giants Get Three Straight And Brooklyn Is Only Obstacle In Path

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Pittsburgh Pirates passed out of the fight for the National league championship with scarcely a struggle here this afternoon when the Giants beat them for the third straight time 5 to 4.

The only obstacle now in the path of a fourth pennant for the Giants is the Brooklyn club and it is scarcely a menace.

As in the two previous encounters, home runs figured largely in the scoring. Meusel hit the first one in the fourth inning for the Giants and Nehf duplicated the blow in the fifth. The last three Giant runs came in the seventh on a double by Gowdy, a pass to Nehf, a force out, a double by Young and Kelly's single.

Aided by Errors
Two Giant errors helped the Pirates to their first run in the fourth when, with two down, Traynor singled, took second on Lindstrom's error on Maranville's grounder and scored when Kelly let Grimm's drive slip between his legs.

In the ninth the Pirates started a rally with two gone when, with Schmidt and Moore on bases, Carey lifted the ball into the left field stand. Cuyler, the Pittsburgh heavy hitter, however, fanned for the final out.

First Inning
Pittsburgh—Moore popped to Kelly. Carey walked. Carey stole second. Cuyler out, Kelly to Terry. Wright popped to Kelly. No runs, no hits.

New York—Lindstrom walked. Young safe on Maranville's error. Lindstrom took second on the play. Kelly fanned. Meusel fouled to Grimm. Terry fanned. No runs, no hits, one error.

Second Inning
Pittsburgh—Traynor singled to left. Maranville fanned. Grimm lifted to Meusel. Traynor out stealing. Gowdy to Jackson. No runs, one hit.

New York—Wilson singled to center. Jackson flied to Carey. Gowdy popped to Maranville. Nehf out, Cooper to Grimm. No runs, one hit.

Third Inning
Pittsburgh—Schmidt singled past third. Cooper forced Schmidt to Jackson. Moore fouled to Gowdy. Cooper took second after the catch. Carey popped to Jackson. No runs, one hit.

New York—Lindstrom fouled to Grimm. Young flied to Carey. Kelly struck out. No runs, no hits.

Fourth Inning
Pittsburgh—Cuyler struck out.

No. 1 does just two times the amount of work of No. 2. Another marked difference.

The Glendale Evening News classified the papers of the week as follows: Monday and Wednesday of this week led by the Glendale Evening News, a local newspaper in Glendale. That means

What 100% Means

The man whose weight is 100 per cent more than another man, means that man No. 1 weighs just twice as much as man No. 2. If one weighs 125 pounds, the other weighs 250 pounds. A marked difference, indeed. The merchant whose gross business is 100 per cent more than another merchant means merchant No. 1 does just two times the amount of business done by No. 2. Another marked difference.

Predicts Dirigible Use In Politics, Dry Law and War, Too

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Sept. 25.—A presidential campaign via dirigible in 1928, forest fires smothered by carbonic acid gas bombs hurled from the air and defense of America's coast line against the wily rum-runner by air cruisers even larger than the monster ZR-3, were forecast in a look into the future of aviation today by Ernest A. Lehmann, vice president of the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation of Akron, Ohio.

The veteran dirigible pilot, hero of some of the most daring escapades of wartime flying, made these predictions in an interview in the huge hangar of the ZR-3, as he supervised the finishing touches for the farewell trial trip of the huge cloud cruiser before she casts off for America, probably by the end of next week.

Republicans Pick Colonel Roosevelt For N. Y. Governor

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the United States navy, was nominated for governor by the Republican state convention here today on the first ballot. Roosevelt was victorious over four other candidates.

Pastor Confesses Love, Pleads for 'Justice'

NASHVILLE, Ill., Sept. 25.—Rev. Lawrence M. Hight made his confession today just as the bells of the little Baptist church here tolled, summoning worshippers to the little edifice.

Girl Attempts to End Life In Love Quarrel

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Despondent because of a quarrel with her sweetheart, Alice Walker, 22, dancing instructor, attempted suicide here today by swallowing bichloride of mercury. She was rushed to a hospital and may recover, physicians said.

INQUIRY POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Any chance of the Wheeler-Brookhart Senate committee re-assembling at this time to resume its probe into the department of justice apparently went aglimmering today. Senator Henry F. Ashurst, Democrat of Arizona, and Senator George H. Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, the only members of the committee in the capital, both announced they had no intention of reconvening the committee.

CHANCE FOR VOTERS TO EXPRESS CHOICE

Independent Ticket Is Not Permitted by State's Laws, Rules Court

BULLETIN
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—The supreme court of California will be asked to review its decision, rendered by a 4 to 3 vote, barring La Follette-Wheeler electors from the November ballot. Announcement to this effect was made this afternoon by Frank Havenner, state campaign manager.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 25.—The Socialist state convention will meet here Saturday to place the La Follette-Wheeler electors on the Socialist ticket, it was announced today by Chairman A. L. Heim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Barred by a court decision from placing an independent ticket of electors on the ballot favoring the La Follette-Wheeler presidential ticket, supporters of the Wisconsin candidate today announced they would avail themselves of the offer of the Socialist ticket to place La Follette before the voters of California.

"The Socialist party has a place on the ballot," said a statement issued by Rudolph Spreckels, regional director of the La Follette-Wheeler campaign, "and since no other opportunity is left open to the supporters of La Follette and Wheeler to express their choice, they should unhesitatingly vote for the electors named on the ballot under that designation, who will be pledged to cast their votes in the electoral college for La Follette and Wheeler."

Issues Statement
Spreckels issued a statement, in part as follows:
"In deciding against the 50,000 voters who, in one day, signed petitions to place La Follette electors on the November ballot, the supreme court rendered one of those four to three decisions which is calculated to increase the already strong public opinion that a bare majority of the courts too often denies to the people an opportunity to enjoy the benefits

Pike National Forest Is Menaced by Flames

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 25.—What was characterized by local forestry officials as an extremely dangerous fire broke out in the dry underbrush and grass near the town of Green Mountain Falls, west of here shortly before noon today. Several cottages have already been burned, reports said, and the fire is menacing heavy timber of the Pike National Forest nearby. The summer home of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is in the path of the flames. The blaze was started by sparks from a Midland railroad engine and a score of railroad employees are now battling against the spread of the fire to the valuable timberland.

Tunnel For Flood Control In City To Cost $450,000

A flood control tunnel from Sycamore canyon road to Geneva street and the Verdugo wash, thence to the Los Angeles river, is to be constructed at once with the full amount of $450,000 voted at the last county flood control election, or such portion of this sum as may be required.

This was revealed this morning, when Supervisor Henry W. Wright, James H. Reagan, flood control engineer, and two attorneys for the Flood Control board, appeared before the City Council and went into executive session with them.

As a result, the council this afternoon passed the necessary measures to facilitate the work of letting a contract on Proposition 1-A, for which bids were opened at the last session of the Board of Supervisors.

This action, which is declared to be of vital interest to every resident of Glendale and adjacent sections of the county, brings within reach of consummation a project that for years has been hailed as a "vision" and a "dream," according to city officials.

L. A. Creamery Co. To Build $250,000 Branch Plant Here

Speaking at the Glendale Rotary club luncheon, Rubin Jaffe, advertising manager for the Los Angeles Creamery Co., revealed that Glendale will be given a $250,000 branch in the immediate future to care for the creamery company's business in this section of the metropolitan area.

While Mr. Jaffe mentioned the matter only casually, it was borne out by an affirmative nod of J. R. Duffy, assistant manager.

"We have felt that Glendale was ripe for this for some time," said the speaker, "and we believe that the business justifies our entering the field with a plant in Glendale."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Edward Robinson, 16, is dead and Charles E. Cooper, 15, is seriously wounded as a result of a knife battle in front of a class room of forty pupils at Armstrong high school here today. Robinson and Cooper, both colored, engaged in an argument over a seat in the class room and before anybody could interfere, whipped out knives and began slashing each other.

HUGE LOSSES LOOM FROM BOND FORGERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Bond forgeries that have cost companies $250,000 and may result in further losses of millions of dollars, were discovered this afternoon by Assistant District Attorney Richard Gibbs. Gibbs said the first forgery discovered was counterfeit bonds of the Steel and Tube company of America, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation. These bonds are redeemable January 1, 1951, and bear 7 per cent interest. The insertion of the word "North," Gibbs said, was the only difference between the counterfeit bond and the genuine one, reading "Steel and Tube company of America."

TENT SHOW PERMIT IS REFUSED BY CITY

Council, by Vote of 3 to 2, Denies Permission to Murphy Comedians

The Glendale City Council today voted "no" by three to two, on the request of Murphy's Comedians for a ninety-day permit to operate their tent theatre in an industrial district near South San Fernando road and Los Angeles street, causing the request to be denied.

Councilmen S. A. Davis and S. S. Gilhuly voted to grant Murphy's Comedians this permit to operate here in Glendale while their $250,000 theatre in Casa Verdugo is under construction, but their two votes were insufficient to overcome the negative votes of Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilmen Asa Hall and C. E. Kimlin.

Mayor Robinson opposed the measure on the grounds that a tent show is in the same class with an auto camp and undesirable in Glendale under all circumstances. Councilmen Hall and Kimlin opposed the measure because, as the latter said, "It is not fair to the men who have their money invested here."

Called Good Show

"There can be only one objection to granting Murphy's Comedians this permit," declared Councilman Davis, "and we know where it comes from. It is a good show, and its only enemies are pernicious trouble makers. The only reason this theatre is to be built in Casa Verdugo, and not in Glendale, is because these trouble makers forced Horace Murphy and his troupe out of Glendale. I am not afraid of any political influence, and I am voting 'yes' on this measure because I believe in fair play."

Public Behind Show

Councilman Gilhuly gave as his reason for voting to grant the permit the fact that "when 2000 people see this show every night, or 14,000 people a week, the public of Glendale must be behind Murphy's Comedians."

'Ma' Ferguson Center Of Wrangle In Court

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 25.—Following a stormy session at which Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson was asked to withdraw her nomination for governor by attorneys seeking an injunction to prevent her candidacy, and that eventually resulted in her leaving the courtroom, Judge George Calhoun before whom the hearing has proceeded for four days, announced this afternoon that he would render his decision next Monday.

TEXTILE STRIKE LOOMS

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 25.—The Manchester textile council, the local branch of the United Textile Workers of America, today authorized Thomas F. A resolution was adopted declaring the local council was not in accord with the wage reduction announced by the Amoskeag Co.

World Flyer Soars Over Sister's Home And School House

Glendale may well consider itself in the itinerary of the round-the-world flyers, for yesterday afternoon Lieutenant Lowell Smith soared over Glendale, flying close to the home of his sister, Mrs. Lewis Boller, at 416 Piedmont park, and to the Seventh-Day Adventist academy in Sycamore canyon, where she is a teacher. Nurses at the Glendale Research hospital in Piedmont park, and other Glendaleans who were fortunate enough to see the aeroplane flying over the city, state that Lieutenant Smith flew so near that the lettering on the great plane, and the pilot were plainly visible.

Confesses at Grave To Having Attacked And Murdered Girl

GARY, Ind., Sept. 25.—The nude body of Anna Tomich, 10, bound with strips torn from her dress, and under clothes and gagged with a sand-filled handkerchief, was uncovered in a sand-strewn, wooded waste on the outskirts of Gary today by police, led to the spot by Peter Vergolne, 30, charged with luring the girl into his automobile Monday. At the shallow grave in which the body had been placed, Vergolne, police say, confessed the crime. After several hours of grilling he volunteered to take the police to the place where he had buried the body. There he told police the girl had asked him for a ride. He told of stripping off her clothing and placing the girl improvised from a handkerchief and sand in her mouth, then, after attacking her, choked her to death and buried the body.

Police Hunt for Man In Mysterious Murder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Police and deputy sheriffs throughout California were enlisted today in a state-wide search for William Young, 39, of Covina, wanted for questioning in connection with the mysterious murder yesterday of Mrs. Jennie Treweat, of Covina, who was shot down at Vincente station by an unidentified man driving a light car. Search for Young started when Oscar Treweat, husband of the slain woman, informed deputy sheriffs the man had been attentive to his wife for some time, and that she had broken off her friendship with Young only a short time ago.

The ZR-3 will depart for America the latter part of next week if its motor function perfectly on the trial today and tomorrow. In its trial trip the big dirigible will stay aloft thirty-six hours, cruising the entire northern part of Germany.

LABOR FACES ROW

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 25.—Chief interest in today's meeting of the California State Federation of Labor convention here centered about the election of officers following yesterday's sectional strife between Northern and Southern California groups. A row approaching bitterness was foreseen today as preparations were made to begin voting on Eugene Donovan, Los Angeles; Roe Baker, San Francisco, and Frank Carothers, Los Angeles.

FEAR VESSEL LOST

PORT HURON, Mich., Sept. 25.—Tugs were preparing today to search Lake Huron for the missing whaleback freighter Clifton, formerly the Samuel Mather, which is more than fifty-four hours overdue here. WAITS FOR AVIATORS' ARRIVAL

Purse of $10,000 to Be Given Flyers; Half Holiday Is Declared by City

BULLETIN
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—Passing Menlo Park at 2:35 p. m., a distance of approximately thirty miles from San Francisco, the round-the-world flyers are expected at Crissy field before 3 o'clock.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 25.—America's around-the-world flyers, en route to San Francisco from Clover field at Santa Monica, at 2:17 o'clock this afternoon passed over this city.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—With more than 100,000 expected at Crissy field to witness the landing of the flyers, San Francisco had completed plans today for what is expected to be one of the largest welcomes ever accorded visiting notes.

A half holiday has been granted public school children and many of the business houses have given their employees the rest of the afternoon from 2:30 p. m., when the flyers are expected to be approaching the city.

A purse of approximately $10,000 has been raised by public subscription for presentation to the world flyers.

An unconfirmed report reached here this afternoon that one or more of the five planes reported passing over Coalinga, Cal., had returned and landed there at 12:36 o'clock today.

Later check showed the round-the-world flyers to be proceeding toward the coast from Coalinga. The planes that landed proved to be flyers who were going south and who passed the world flyers just north of Coalinga.

World Circling Aviators Leave on Journey North

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 25.—Following the historic blazed six months ago when they sailed away to circumnavigate the globe, America's round the world flyers hopped off here at 10:05 a. m. today for San Francisco, their first stop on the flight to Seattle, where the official start of the great air trip was made.

The army birdmen expected to flash into view of the waiting crowds at Crissy field, San Francisco, within four hours' time.

Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, flight commander, took the air first and was followed closely by Lieutenants Wade and Nelson, the three giant Douglas cruisers sailing into a cloudless sky in line formation.

The start to their north was made without ceremony and only a handful of enthusiasts cheered the globe-girdlers as they pulled away.

The flyers after leaving Clover field circled over the business district of Los Angeles in an appreciation for the grand reception accorded them. Flying close to the heart of the city at 12:10 o'clock the planes were easily sighted by the thousands of office workers and others enjoying the lunch hour.

Make Good This $2000!

The Glendale Evening News, in addition to a regular subscription made to the Y. M. C. A. building fund, has pledged to raise $2000 before November 1. Persons who have not already made a subscription to the fund are asked to join with The Evening News contributors in making good the $2000 before November 1. Any amount from $5 to $1000 will be thankfully received, receipted for and turned over to the treasurer of the building fund.

$850.00 will buy a high class home that usually requires about $2500.00.

Mlle. Fernys is a peasant girl.

Legion Notes

By Special Correspondence

The American Legion Post at Santa Monica has broken ground for a new $35,000 clubhouse. All of the money for the construction of the building was raised within the ranks of the Legion membership.

John R. Quinn of California, retiring head of the American Legion, recently watched the New York Yankees in action and personally handed Babe Ruth an invitation from the Tacoma, Wash., Legionnaires inviting the Bambino to play in an exhibition baseball game at the northern city at the close of the present season in the East. Babe has accepted the Legion's offer to make the trip west for the game.

Members of the California delegation to the American Legion's national convention at St. Paul, Minn., acted as a personal escort to Major John R. Quinn, California's retiring head of the ex-servicemen's organization on his return home to this state. Quinn is to take up his residence at Los Angeles, where he is to become a banker. He is a former stockman of Kern county. The California delegates played an important part in the annual meeting of the World war veterans because of the position of Major Quinn in that organization.

Throughout California the members of the American Legion will hold special Armistice day observances, November 11, according to plans being made by James K. Fisk, state adjutant. The Legion's participation in the recent Defense day test was so successful, according to adjutant Fisk, that a special effort is to be made in enlarging on the Armistice day celebrations in the various cities of the state where Legion posts are located.

John R. Quinn, who has just concluded his term of office as national commander of the American Legion, has informed the headquarters of the ninety-first division at the Alexandria hotel that he will be among those present at the fifth annual reunion of this division to be held in Los Angeles Saturday and Sunday, September 27 and 28. Quinn is now on his way to his ranch at Delano from the convention of the American Legion in St. Paul. After spending Thursday at his home ranch he will come on to Los Angeles to renew acquaintances with the many thousand men of the "Wild West Division" who will be in Los Angeles for the convention. Mr. Quinn served as a captain with the ninety-first division in France.

Comment
By GIL A. COWAN

So far this week, five people have been shot to death in Los Angeles county. Two women and three men are victims of all too handy revolvers.

Gun play is too frequent for public safety, although one must commend officers who recently have put a stop to thieves escaping.

While it is none too pleasant for one man to take another's life, burglary must end and when bandits are caught, death should be the price for resisting arrest.

Gunmen show little mercy toward officers. And while great judgment should be exercised by police in random shooting, the death of a criminal sometimes is the surest cure, as well as serving as a great moral lesson.

Two court decisions yesterday will cause a great stir. La Follette electors are denied a place on the ballot by the California Supreme court. Only by resorting to the Socialist ticket will they save a "write-in" campaign which would cost the senator votes.

Sunday closing ordinances against places of amusement were sustained in an opinion handed down by the appellate court. While many communities will not adopt the legislation similar to that enacted by Pomona, there is good ground for revival of "blue law" campaigns.

For those who wish to avoid the obstructions in Glendale boulevard driving from Los Angeles during the evening rush hour, the writer suggests following Glendale boulevard out of Los Angeles to Berkeley street near Edendale, thence via Echo Park avenue to Elysian Park drive and through the park to Riverside drive, which brings one to Glendale boulevard again at Ivanhoe. It is a shady, restful drive, circling about the hills, over a rather rough, but paved road. And some day, when Riverside drive is boulevardized, as now planned, it will be the scenic route to Glendale, giving a vista of the city from Elysian Heights. It is unanimous with motorists to and from Los Angeles that all street work leading to Glendale be completed as soon as possible.

Ten Propositions,
Total $1,705,500,
Up For Decision

There are in the city of Glendale 13,500 registered voters eligible to ballot at the special municipal bond election of Tuesday, September 30, according to William M. Kerr, Los Angeles county registrar of voters. How many of these will exercise their electoral prerogative on that day?

At the special library bond election of July 8, only 1003 votes were cast, less than 8 per cent of the qualified voters! Of these, 608 favored the proposed library as against 395 who opposed it—but this sanction of the issue did not constitute the necessary two-thirds majority required by law, so the bonds lost.

There are ten propositions to be voted upon next Tuesday. They total $1,705,500. They are, as outlined on the sample ballot, as follows:

1 Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $60,000 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing the following municipal improvement, to-wit: The expansion of the fire department of the city of Glendale as follows: The acquisition, construction and completion of land, buildings and fire apparatus, consisting of the acquisition of land in the easterly part of the city of Glendale and the construction thereof of a fire station in Verdugo Woodlands in the city of Glendale, including the acquisition of the necessary materials for the construction of the aforesaid fire stations and the acquisition of additional fire apparatus for the fire department of the city of Glendale?

2 Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $63,500 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing the following municipal improvement, to-wit: The acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit: A modern fire alarm system for said city, including the acquisition of said system and the installation thereof?

3 Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $36,500 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing the following municipal improvement, to-wit: The acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit: A modern police alarm system for said city, including the acquisition of said system and the installation thereof?

4 Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $650,000 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing the following municipal improvement, to-wit: The acquisition, construction and completion by the city of Glendale of certain municipal improvements in one group, heretofore approved by the planning commission of the city of Glendale as constituting a city plan, to-wit: The acquisition of that certain real property commonly known as the Harvard High school grounds, including the necessary reconstruction of the buildings thereon, for the purpose of providing a city hall, a public auditorium, a public library, a fire station, public comfort stations, a public gymnasium, and a public playground?

5 Shall the city of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $12,000 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing the following municipal improvement, to-wit: The acquisition, construction and completion of two bridges over that certain channel commonly known as Verdugo Canyon Wash in said city of Glendale, at the intersection of said Verdugo Canyon Wash with Louise street in said city, and at the intersection of said Verdugo Canyon Wash with Pacific avenue in said city, including the acquisition of materials, easements, rights-of-way and all other works and

Screen Stars to Take Part In Store Opening

Two luminaries of the silver sheet will shine Saturday of this week, in connection with the formal opening of two new Piggly-Wiggly stores, one at San Bernardino and the other at Monrovia. Marie Osborne, the original child screen star, who is returning after two years under private tutors, to greet the public as a "grown up" ingenue, will act as hostess at the San Bernardino opening. Charlotte Stephens, who stars in several current productions, will officiate at Monrovia.

Officials of the Piggly-Wiggly company are going ahead with elaborate preparations for the opening of the two stores on the same day. The screen luminaries will appear at the stores at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will demonstrate to the housewives of the two towns the "help yourself" system of shopping.

Two more Piggly-Wiggly stores are scheduled to open a week from Saturday, one at Glendale and the other at Crescent Junction, on Santa Monica boulevard, Hollywood.

Work of Local Pupils
Is Given Recognition

Miss Pearl Keller, Glendale dancing teacher of 109-A South Central avenue, is most happy and proud of recognition just received by a group of her talented pupils from Gus Edwards, internationally known vaudeville entertainer and organizer of juvenile reviews. Miss Keller was fortunate in being presented to Mr. Edwards in San Francisco. Last week when he was in Los Angeles he held a try-out for sixty children, and Miss Keller had eight pupils in prominent places in the tryout.

Glendale children appearing were Cecilia Mae Fischer, Julia Pelley, Turner sisters, Hunt sisters, Marie Brown and Eleanor Marek. They appeared in their artistic costumes and clever dances and were highly complimented by Mr. Edwards, who plans to return to Los Angeles this fall to organize juvenile follies.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

WE ALL KNOW—

Much better than we do.
Truths about ourselves we will not admit.
People who enjoy poor health.
Other people's faults better than our own.
Worry never helped make anyone happy.
That obituaries never fool anyone.
We can't argue with conscience.

WOMEN AS ATHLETES

Glenna Collett, golf champion, says the tomboy has come into her own. We can all remember when it was unseemly for a girl to run and jump and climb trees and fences, and if she loved to play outdoors with her brother, she was chided and shamed and called a tomboy.

Happily, conditions have changed and the girl is now allowed to develop her body the same as her brother. There are few sports in which boys and men indulge that are not open to girls and women.

Recently the children of a certain neighborhood gave a "show" to which their companions and elders were admitted on payment of (not the traditional three pines, for everything is more costly now than it used to be) three cents. One of the numbers was a dance by three girls ranging in age from 7 to 11, and this was interspersed with hand springs and cartwheels and all sorts of acrobatics in which nearly all children are proficient today. Twenty years ago we would have applauded real actors on a real stage for such a performance as these little actors gave on their play stage.

Women have made wonderful records in swimming and diving, golf and tennis and other forms of athletics.

More sensible methods of dress, as the elimination of tight stays, high heels and long, heavy skirts, and participation in all kinds of sports and games should tend to make women both healthier and happier.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Designating October 9 as Fire Prevention day, President Coolidge in his proclamation says, "The preservation of thousands of lives and valuable property is a task worthy of our constant endeavor and wholesome co-operation." Fire prevention day comes a little late in the season for California. It is like locking the barn after the horse is stolen to set aside a day for this purpose after thousands of acres of valuable timber has been burned over, beautiful mountain homes and resorts wiped out by flames, and watersheds destroyed.

Every day should be fire prevention day in California. Paul G. Redington, United States district forester in San Francisco, says there would have been practically no fire hazard in the California national forests, even during the unusual drought of this summer, had human carelessness been eliminated. He declares that 657 out of 839 fires in the state this year were due to negligence.

If fire prevention day will impress upon even one careless camper or motorist the importance of being cautious with camp fires, matches and cigarettes, by all means, let us observe it!

TO MODERNIZE VENICE

The tendency to commercialize the natural beauties of the country is not confined to the United States alone. To those who have seen and loved incomparable Venice, reports that come from that unique and picturesque city of the old world are saddening.

Modern progress would do away with the gondola entirely and replace it with the motor boat. Others would go still further and build a bridge to connect Venice with the mainland for the benefit of pedestrians and motor cars. Progressive but tactless souls advocate the erection of tasteless new buildings alongside historic monuments and the improvement of the lagoon shore to allow people to raise cabbages and potatoes upon it.

Once give the street car and the automobile access to Venice and the character of the city has been changed, her enchantment has disappeared. Venice may suffer if she allows progress to have too much her own way, for, as the city loses her historic and unique charm and individuality and becomes more modern and commonplace in character, the tourist will fail to find it worth visiting.

LITERARY ALLUSIONS

A writer complains that golf, the automobile and the radio are the three common denominators of our age. He hates all three, and yet he must own and operate these "miserable playthings" because it is the only way he can be sure that he and his readers are talking the same language.

An author is not so sure today that he and his readers have a common fund of knowledge. If he wishes to quote the Bible or the classics it is not at all certain that more than a tenth of his readers will understand the reference. When a writer can make himself understood by quoting or alluding to other authors and when a reader can understand and appreciate these allusions there is a fellowship established that is pleasing to both.

Jacinto Benavente, a Spanish playwright, has said, "Immortality for an author is that he should blossom in so many future works of others that his own are remembered no more. There is no higher immortality."

OLD PROPHECIES

Eulogizing the round-the-world fliers, a sports writer says that Aladdin and the owner of the magic carpet seem to be almost matter-of-fact. The magic carpet never went around the world, but American army airplanes have accomplished that feat.

In an old book entitled "Crums for the Curious" published fifty years ago or more, there appeared a rhyme, the prophecy of Mother Shipman, in which these lines occurred:

"Carriages without horses shall go
And accidents fill the world with woe."

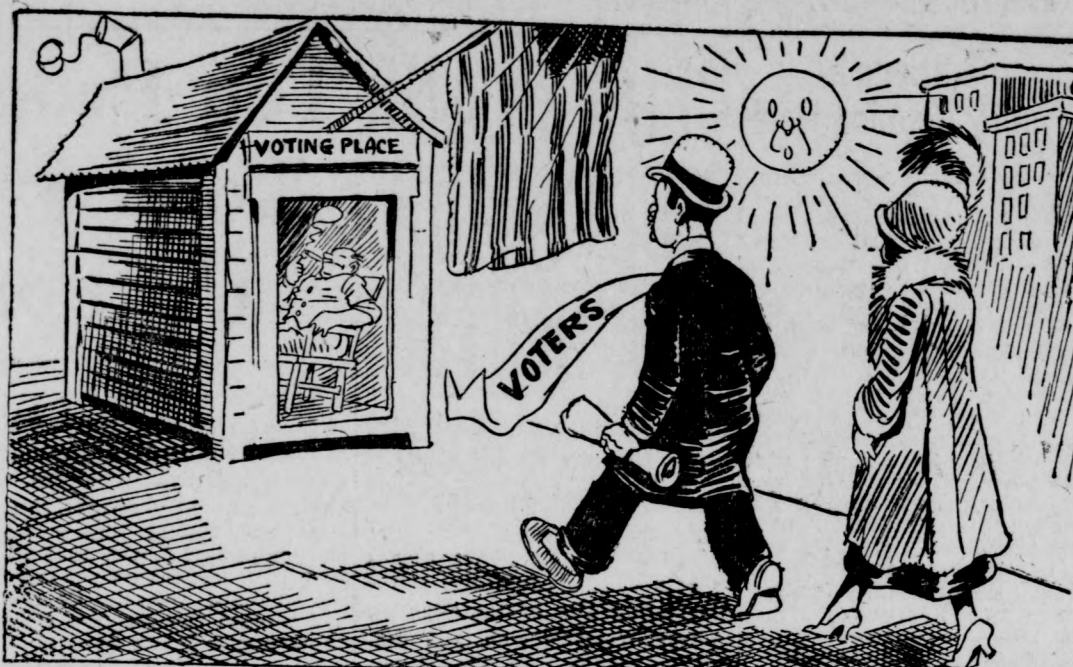

How absurd seemed that prophecy, and how far away its fulfillment. But now it is the exception rather than the rule to pick up the daily paper and not read of an accident that has brought death and woe, due to the operation of carriages that go without horses. What seemed such a dire prophecy has become so commonplace that we scarcely give these accidents a thought unless those killed or injured are known to us.

Well, anyway, those who carry buckeyes to cure rheumatism shouldn't send missionaries to convert those who worship idols.

You can't make a doctor out of a four carat diamond and a long tailed coat.

"Feeding's a science," says a dietitian. That may be true, but eating's an art.

IN THE AGE OF DEMOCRACY

The Revenge of France

By DR. FRANK CRANE

France has suffered a good deal from Americans, especially from advertising. It is because of American advertising methods that French billboards are plastered with the alluring attractions of soap and medicine. It is because of American advertising methods that French in the Paris subway, you cannot tell the name of a station because it is concealed among advertisements of various kinds.

But the French have their revenge in their own way. They are the best, the longest and the fastest, to say nothing of being the most tireless, speech-makers in the world, and they sure did rub it into the advertising men while they were their guests in Paris. Early in the morning they attended the American pro-cathedral, the American church and the Catholic church of St. Joseph's, and listened to speeches by Dean Beekman and Dr. Joseph W. Cochran, who told what they knew about modern publicity.

Then they went to the Unknown Soldier's Grave, where they listened to a band and were addressed by speeches from Senator Paul Dupuy and others. Mr. Neal spoke of the traditional friendship between France and America and other worn-out topics. He was followed by Mr. Kirwin of Texas, who afterwards pronounced a prayer for the dead of France, and the whole performance ended by a band playing the "Marseillaise" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Afterwards, at 10:45, they went to the Avenue George V, where they listened to more talks by Bishop Kinsolving and Dean Beekman.

Following this they had another speech at the Battle of Verdun for the memory of American soldiers who died in the war.

Then they drove out to Versailles, where they were bombarded with speeches by Senator Paul Dupuy again, also by M. Bonnetoy-Sibour, prefect of Seine-et-Oise, M. Saint-Mieu, mayor of Versailles, and M. Petitpas, president of the committee of Versailles fetes.

Afterwards they went to the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles, where they were addressed by M. Bonnetoy-Sibour, and Mayor Saint-Mieu. M. Marcel Knecht also made a few remarks that were repeated by Fred B. Smith of New York.

Then there was a banquet at the Trianon palace in their honor, after which there were short speeches by Mr. Neal and others. The occasion wound up with a display of fireworks and the play of fountains, and the delegates, who were sufficiently speechified by this time, came back to the Place de la Concorde after midnight. They felt that the French had taken their revenge.

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

In 1792—WASHINGTON RE-ELECTED

When Washington ran for a second term in 1792 the electors voted for him unanimously. It was a foregone conclusion that Washington and Adams would be re-elected and the election was as perfunctory as the first one had been—no conventions, no nominations, no party lines, "no nothing." The electors were in the same free and untrammelled state as before.

There were fifteen states now and six of them tried the experiment of choosing electors by popular vote. But few votes were cast in these six states and only one electoral ticket was placed in the field. It looked as if the attempt to get an expression of political preference from the people was a failure and the actual selection of President and Vice-President was destined to remain where the framers of the Constitution intended it should, in the hands of the respectable and unbiased gentlemen who composed the Electoral College, who should use their best judgment.

But this was only on the surface. Thomas Jefferson was quietly building up an opposition party and only waiting for Washington to pass off the public stage to introduce party government.

At this election only three men were voted for besides Washington and Adams—George Clinton, Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr. But, though in the balloting Clinton received but fifty votes to Washington's unanimous vote of 132 and Adams's 77, Jefferson but four and Burr but one, the appearance of the names in the Electoral College was significant—an omen of the coming storm. Jefferson represented what was then looked upon as the radical element of the country; Burr, able and unscrupulous, was his avowed disciple; while Clinton had fought tooth and nail to prevent New York from adopting the Constitution on the ground that it gave too much power to the central government.

NEXT—In 1796.

Lack of Proper Fire Equipment Dangerous

To Every Citizen of Glendale:—

As a servant of the public, I consider it my duty to warn the people of the danger in permitting the city to continue to court disaster from fire, as it has in the past. The lack of proper equipment and sufficient apparatus with which to combat fire is every day increasing the risk to every person and home in the city and is very likely to retard the future growth of the city, both as to home building and industries.

The present equipment and fire-fighting apparatus is scarcely sufficient for a city of 30,000 people, not to mention Glendale. Some of our apparatus is not dependable and may fail us in a crisis at the cost of lives and property. One of our "fire stations" is nothing but an old, dirt, floor-cow barn, barely enough to keep the winter rains from the engine. Good fortune alone has aided us in keeping down the fire losses in Glendale.

The city needs an alarm system. We have always enjoyed the full co-operation of the telephone company, and in many cases we could not have located the source of calls had it not been for the operator tracing it back. It is just that condition which should be eliminated. With a box system there is no chance for a wrong address being given, nor for the receiver being hung up before a call is completed, nor for a "busy line."

The 7000 school children in Glendale should be given the protection of an alarm box at each school. This condition alone should justify the voting of fire alarm bonds.

Insurance rates are based on fire protection. Good protection means reasonable rates. Poor protection means high rates. You pay for protection one way or another. It cannot be escaped.

Every person is entitled to and receives the service of every dollar invested in the fire department. What you put into the fire department, you take out in insurance rates and service rendered. It is not a gamble. You benefit in exact proportion to your investment.

If we deny the people the proper protection to lives and property—if we continue endangering the safety of the school children—if we are content to go on with a fire department one-third the strength of the average California city of like size—then we can no longer justify our slogan, "The Fastest Growing City in America."

Yours for service,
A. H. LANKFORD,
Chief Engineer, Glendale Fire Department.

Steamer Edward Pierce Goes Down In Crash

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—The steamer Edward Pierce sank in Boston harbor today after she had been rammed by the steamer Mundella.

The crash occurred in the outer harbor, but the Pierce was able to limp to a point off the dock, aided by a tugboat, before she went down. The tugboat put her nose against the side of the Pierce and pushed her out of the channel so that she rests in comparatively shallow water with her bow showing. A big hole was torn in the Pierce's starboard bow.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day. While Venus and Saturn are in benefic aspect, the Sun, Neptune and Mars are all adverse.

Women should be lucky through the early hours of the morning, but they should depend upon established work and old associations, avoiding any changes.

This is held to be lucky date for weddings, if the ceremonies are performed before noon.

Women should find this a most auspicious way for real estate investments or for farming in which there should be big returns.

Aged persons of both sexes should benefit under this planetary government, which promises access of influence and the sort of stimulation which restores vigor.

The seer prophesies that army and navy affairs will be discussed frequently at this time when the president will manifest much concern.

Demonstrations of military and naval strength will be made more than once before the new year, it is prognosticated.

While there appears to be no near danger of war for the United States serious troubles are shown for eastern Europe, where Neptune is culminating and Mars is on the lower meridian.

Today's Poem

PRAISE

Dear, they are praising your beauty,
The grass and the sky:
The sky in a silence of wonder,
The grass in a sigh.

I, too, would sing for your praise,
Dearest, had I
Speech as the whispering grass,
Or the silent sky.

These have an art for the praising
Beauty so high.
Sweet, you are praised in a
Silence,
Sung in a sigh.

FUR-BEARING HUSBANDS
Peggy: How is your husband behaving?
Polly: Oh, badly enough for a new fur coat.

A SOPH'S FABLE
Once upon a time there was a man who knew all the words of "The Star-Spangled Banner."
He was Francis Scott Key.

ALONE WITH THE CAR
"Why don't men have 'dens' any more?"
"Because they have to spend all their spare time in the garage, and like it better."

THE SHOCK ABSORBERS
A circus features a strong man who can stop a motor-car traveling at fifty miles an hour. Many pedestrians have been known to do this, but it wears them out in time.

THEN IT HAPPENED
The host at the drawing room concert was nervous and inexperienced and at the end of a song with which one of the guests had "obliged" he rose hurriedly. "Ladies and gentlemen," he began, "before Mrs. Smith started to sing she—ah—told me her—ah—her voice was not in the best condition, and—ah—asked me to apologize for it, but I neglected to do so and—ah—I apologize now."

Who's Who

The recent army shift caused by the retirement of General Pershing and the naming of Major-General John L. Hines as new chief of staff, brings Brigadier-General Dennis Nolan into the news. He was named deputy chief of staff next in command under the new chief.

Dennis Edward Nolan was born in Akron, N. Y., April 22, 1872. He graduated from the United States Military academy in 1896, and was married to Julia Grant Sharp of Duluth, Minn., in 1901. He served as an officer through the Spanish-American war, participating in the battle of El Caney, was aide de camp to Brigadier-General Chambers McKibben at Santiago, Cuba, and at Montauk Point, N. Y. He was recommended for brevets of first lieutenant and captain, U. S. A., for services in the Spanish-American war.

Nolan did duty in the Philippines in 1901-02 and 1903-04, and in Alaska, 1912-13. He arrived in France on July 9, 1917, and was with the general staff corps of the A. E. F. from 1917-19, and chief of the Intelligence Service, A. E. F., until demobilization. He commanded the 55th brigade, 28th division, in Argonne-Meuse offensive. He was given the D. S. M. in 1918 "for organizing and administering the intelligence service," and the D. S. C. "for conduct in action" at Apremont, the Croix de Guerre with palm from the French.

On March 6, 1921, he was made brigadier-general of the regular army.

Do You Know

Exports from the United States during October, 1923, totaled $402,000,000.

Arrangements are now being completed for the establishment of a naval air base at Los Angeles harbor, as a result of recent orders transmitted to the battle fleet from Washington, D. C. Up to the present time, however, no plans have been announced for the construction of buildings and the navy department is only seeking a landing site for hydroplanes co-operating with the fleet from their base at San Diego.

ADVENTURES ON DESERT HIGHWAY

Good Roadbed and Scenery
That's Different Attract
Numerous Motorists

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Motor adventures are the popular pastime of Southern Californians who have become acclimated, Commissioner N. T. Edwards of the California Highway commission told of a trip recently made by the governor's investigative committee of nine which will report to the next legislature.

"The road," said Mr. Edwards, looking at the highway commission's map, "doesn't show, but it's there, because we went over it, from Palmdale to Victorville. They want the state to take it over."

Just to find out what is being wished off on the state in this manner the writer made the trip. The road is well sign by the Automobile Club of Southern California, dare you call it a road after the first fifteen miles of pavement.

"The road is good," was Mr. Edwards' advice. And to say that for a desert trail is telling the truth. Common use has made tracks in which any car can trundle along at twenty-five miles an hour or better and many women drivers are to be seen piloting cars with the greatest of pleasure over the sand hills on the edge of the desert.

Variety In Scenery
There are 210 miles of varied scenery to be had in a day's trip from Glendale and return, leaving early in the morning over the San Fernando road for Palmdale, by way of Mint canyon. Morning in the mountains and rising to an elevation of 1500 to 2000 feet where dry desert air, known for its curative values gives one inspiration, is sheerest enjoyment.

Antelope valley with its avocado and pear orchards, its turkey ranches and homesteads reminds one that California is still a greatly undeveloped rural home place.

Like Pioneer Days
Pine flats, the new Los Angeles county park, is a playground for picnic parties at the noonday and Victor valley with its apples and cattle is of entirely different character from the panorama just passed.

Victorville is a picturesque village on the pioneer order brought up-to-date by motor cars and the scenic value of Cajon pass with its winding hills has off been described. And the Foothill boulevard homes savor of a swiftness to end a perfect day for those who have tired of local scenes.

SAFETY COUNCIL TO SEEK SOLUTION OF ACCIDENT PROBLEM

Organization Proposes to Enlist Aid of Various National Bodies

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 25.—A new method of dealing with the national accident problem was announced by the national safety council which will open its thirteenth annual safety congress here September 29.

Prominent among associations at the congress are the United States Chamber of Commerce, the American Automobile association, the United States Automobile Chamber of Commerce, the American Railway association, the International Chief of Police association, the national bureau of casualty and surety underwriters, the American Electric Railway association and the American Mutual alliance.

The council proposes to enlist the aid of all national associations whose interests in any way touch upon the street and highway problem.

C. B. Auel, vice-president of the council, explained how the new program would supplement the efforts of American cities, nine of which have just announced they have reduced public accident fatalities during the first six months of 1924 in comparison with the same period in 1923.

Auto 'Stunt' Party Proves Real Thriller

ORANGE, Sept. 25.—Try this with your automobile, but arrange for a cameraman so you can get a slow motion idea of what it was all about.

G. M. Bickford, of this city, recently played a leading part in an asserted "stunt" party when his car unexpectedly interfered with the rapid movement of a much larger machine. Following the smashup Bickford told the police he was driving his car in an easterly direction when he came into contact with an "irresistible" force in the form of a much larger machine. His small car, Bickford declared, was struck with such a terrific impact that it turned a complete somersault and lit on all fours.

Another mysterious feature, according to Bickford's story, was that before the collision he was in the driver's seat, but after it was all over he found himself reposing in the rear seat of his "war" torn vehicle. Although spectators knew nothing of the seat changing episode, they declared that Bickford, after words with the other driver, drove his car away with the top copiously draped about it, the radiator practically a minus quantity and a tire missing from one of the wheels.

Investment trust principles were known in Belgium and Switzerland before England and Scotland took up the idea.

ROAD SIGNS WARN OF DANGER

Speed Fiends and Careless Drivers Cautioned by Unique Markers

Signs on the back of flippers do not have a monopoly of all the pungency and humor of motorists, according to some of the warnings voluntarily posted in this section, as noted by scouts of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Although 115,000 signs are scattered throughout this territory, occasional special warnings are tacked up, and there is food for thought in most of them.

A few of the latest encountered are as follows:

"Slow Down—Look Before You Weep."

"Stop—Look—and Live."

"This is a Good Road. 'It Will Cost You Money to Burn It Up.'"

"Good Morning, Judge."

"Don't Speed. It is 'Good Morning, Judge, Here as Heretofore.'"

"Hurry to the Office is No Excuse for Speeding. The Court House is Just Around the Corner."

"Prepare to Meet Thy God."

"Thou Shalt Not Kill."

"Look Out. You May Meet a Fool Around the Corner."

"Don't Covet Your Neighbor's Side of the Road."

"Don't Kill a Child."

School Stops Over County Are Ordered

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—The Board of Supervisors has passed a resolution here authorizing the Los Angeles County Motor Patrol to paint "school stops" on all boulevards and highways throughout the county wherever a school is located. Work on the painting of the signs will begin as soon as a force can be organized, Captain W. F. Cannon declared.

The resolution further calls for a line painted in the center of the highways in the county on all curves, and all motorists are warned to keep to the right of these lines wherever they appear. Captain Cannon also stated that as soon as possible signs will appear on the highways and boulevards warning the motoring public of an intersection where a 15 mile per hour speed limit prevails. A large arrow will be painted in the center of the road at a sufficient distance from the intersection to give the motorist ample time to slow down to the required speed.

Since 1904 the national death rate from tuberculosis has decreased 50 per cent.

Chrysler Withstands Severe Test

The picture shows a stock Chrysler six which made a gruelling 1000 mile run over the Fresno track last Wednesday, at the hands of Ralph DePalma, who established with it the fastest time for this distance ever done with a stock car in the state of California, capturing the coveted Los Angeles Times trophy. DePalma's speed with the Chrysler averaged 59 54-100 miles per hour throughout the entire run, which he accomplished in sixteen hours and forty-seven and a fraction minutes, according to Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Co., of 124 West Colorado boulevard, local Chrysler dealer.

SETS STATE RECORD ON LONG RUN

Chrysler Stock Touring Car
With De Palma at Wheel
Winner of Trophy

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff.
Covering 1000 miles in 1007 minutes, 54 4-5 seconds at Fresno last Wednesday with a stock Chrysler six, Ralph DePalma annexed the coveted Los Angeles Times trophy for the fastest 1000 miles ever made with a stock touring car in the state of California, a feat of which Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Co., at 124 West Colorado boulevard, local Chrysler dealer, is justly proud.

"To my knowledge this was the severest test ever asked of a stock car in this state," says Mr. Clark. "The fact that the car was absolutely stock, gear ratio, motor and all, demonstrates convincingly a remarkable degree of endurance."

Stands Severe Strain

"The test was primarily to show not speed, but rather the ability of this sturdy car to stand up under the extreme strain of running wide open for 1000 miles."

Ralph DePalma had to average 59 54-100 miles per hour during the entire distance, to win the cup. He covered the distance in sixteen hours and forty-seven and a fraction minutes, according to the timing of Val Haresnape and Hal Weller, who acted as official A. A. A. representatives. The timers did not, however, certify to the fact that the Chrysler DePalma drove was stock, this being done by representatives of the Los Angeles Times.

Carries Balloon Tires

"Full balloon tires were used throughout the run, probably the first time they have ever been employed in a speed event of this character. While the extreme high speed at the turns caused tubes to pinch, otherwise the balloons gave splendid account of themselves and the casings showed virtually no wear at the end of the 1000 miles. In all, nine changes were

(Turn to page 6, col. 5)

TO ADJUST WHEELS

Before taking measures to adjust the gather of the front wheels it is absolutely necessary that the tires be fully inflated; that the car stands on a level road, and that the wheel bearings be adjusted properly so as to eliminate lost motion.

LARGE TEST FIELD

What is probably the greatest practical automotive test field in the United States is to be found in Chicago, where a fleet of 3000 Yellow Cabs is in operation, totaling 12,600,000 miles of actual service per month.

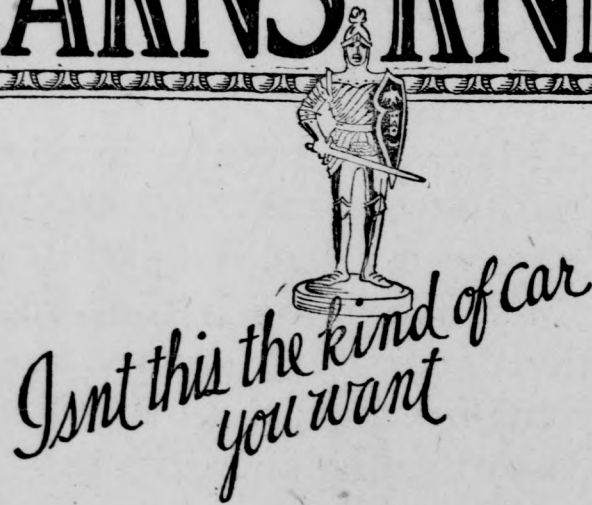

KEEP CAR MOVING

It eases the steering process when worming in and out of a parking place to keep the car moving, if only creeping, when tugging at the wheel.

LEAK PROOF JOINT

In making a leak-proof joint it is not only wise to use a suitable gasket, but also to place felt washers underneath the iron washers of the retaining bolts.

Gentlemen:—

We have just received reports from each of our receiving stations regarding the performance of your "B" batteries, and I thought you probably would be interested in hearing what our various equipment supervisors have to say about them.

Willard Radio "B" Batteries are now in use at all of our four receiving points.—San Francisco, Daly City, Los Angeles and Portland and have been in service from six months to a year, the exact time varying with the stations. Before installing your batteries we used the best non-rechargeable batteries we could buy.

At our Beach Radio Station in San Francisco your batteries have more than paid for themselves in six months and the operator-in-charge reports them "more satisfactory in every way". This station is used principally for marine work and is both a transmitting and receiving point. It is one of the most powerful sending stations in the world, working frequently as far as 1500 miles east of New York, and westward, with Yokohama and Shanghai.

At Portland, where your batteries are in use for both marine and land (point-to-point) receiving, our equipment supervisor states: "With the marine receiver there is no comparison between Willard "B" Batteries and the type previously used, as the latter lasted just about 10 days, giving about two days of REAL operation and a week of very poor results, and two sets of these batteries were used in parallel at that."

Our Daly City Supervisor, in addition to commenting upon the economy of your "B" Batteries, says, "We have 12, 24-volt Willards connected in pairs. Two of these pairs have been in constant use for 11 months, five months of which, they each carried the plate load of 28 tubes on alternate days. This is unusual service but performance was perfect. There appeared to be plenty of reserve for even a greater load."

Los Angeles reports: "Willard 'B' Batteries have given satisfactory noiseless service with no signs of deterioration. Receiver uses eight tubes, operating continuously."

Yours very truly

Handy Light

Windshield spotlights are becoming more popular each day through advertising. The picture shows one of the fairer sex demonstrating the windshield. Inset shows close-up of light.

"Buying auto supplies is no different, in many respects, than buying groceries or clothing, as the customer demands standard quality and nationally known brands in his auto supplies as well," says C. H. Roubush, local manager of the Western Auto Supply Co.

"Take spotlights for an example. We sell many more S. & M. and Fyrc through-the-windshield types than any other makes because, through advertising, the motorist has come to know them. It is the same with horns. The E. A. brand takes the lead in electric horn sales, while the Acornmore signal takes precedence in the exhaust horn field.

"It has always been our policy to carry the best quality merchandise obtainable—so, in keeping with this policy, we carry the nationally known and advertised brands. Too, we buy our merchandise only from legitimate jobbers representing leading factories in their lines.

"Now that rainy weather is just around the corner, it will be interesting to note how many of the motorists will equip their cars with the McKay nationally advertised tire chains," concluded Mr. Roubush.

AJAX CO. PLANS TO BUILD MOTOR CAR

Recent Move Causes Much Excitement Throughout
Auto Industry

No industrial move in recent years has been enveloped in so much mystery as has surrounded the recent formation of the Ajax Motors Co. as a subsidiary organization entirely owned by the Nash Motors Co., and with C. W. Nash as its president. The company is housed in the former Mitchell Motors plant at Racine, Wis., which was finally secured by Nash after spirited bidding on the part of other manufacturers. The notable career of Mr. Nash and the exceptional success that has attended his enterprises naturally has inspired widespread comment as to his plans for this new company. Rumors that have been given extensive circulation in the industry, among bankers and many thousands of automobile owners who have followed Nash's rise to a place of pre-eminence among American manufacturers, are now partially set at rest by a direct statement from Mr. Nash.

Plan Complete Auto
"This subsidiary organization, the Ajax Motors Co., will not build merely a motor, as gossip has had it, but will produce a complete automobile," states C. W. Nash. "At the present time I am not in a position to divulge the exact character of the car, but I can say that it will be a complete surprise when announced owing to the nature of the engineering and the mechanical development now being carried to completion by our staff of engineers. The name Ajax was chosen because of the mythological significance it holds. Homer's Iliad mentions Ajax, the legendary Greek hero, many times for his heroic deeds. Particularly was he swift-footed, we are told. In fact, he was honored as one of Greece's very fleetest runners. Another distinguishing characteristic of Ajax was the power he displayed in hurling the javelin. So in this figure of ancient times we have two of the things the modern car—Ajax—will also possess—speed and power embodied at a price that will make it highly attractive to the great mass of prospective motor car purchasers. Our plans for this new car are in direct accordance with our formulated policy for adding substantially to the ramifications of the Nash Motors Co. and putting it in even more commanding position among the world's greatest producers of passenger cars.

Exceptional Record
"Few people realize just how exceptional our record of advancement has been until they review the history of the automobile industry. The first figures worthy of credence show that in 1899 there were 300 passenger cars produced by all makers and their total value in dollars and cents was $4,750,000. This is less than a normal month's production for the Nash Motors Co. today. By 1910 the annual production for the industry had risen to 181,000.

Jewett's Mechanical Perfection Proved by Billion Miles of Use

Every part that enters into the Jewett Six—from heavy-duty axles to the big Paige-built motor—has been tested and proved right by more than a billion miles' service for 100,000 pleased owners. They know what a pleasure driving can be!

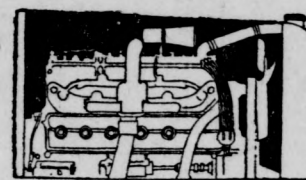

The Jewett buyer is not experimenting. He gets proved performance and sturdiness.

The big Jewett motor was first used in a $2000 Paige. Then improved it became the motor of the Jewett. It is the biggest motor ever put into a car in the $1100 class! And the best proved! Constant refinements have kept it the leading motor in its field.

Jewett's sturdy chassis is amply strong for this big motor. 2805 lbs. of finest materials (200 to 400 lbs. more weight than light sixes) prove Jewett's strength—its ability to stand up under hard service!

Here are the vital parts of a car. Read how Jewett provides for long, joyous performance.

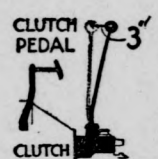

Big Six Motor

Jewett's big motor has 249 cu. in. of piston displacement. That is 20% to 40% more power than ever before put into a car of this size. Some speed up small motors to get power. But that means shortened motor life! Jewett's size accounts for its long-lived power and performance! Jewett "does its stuff" uphill, through sand, in traffic, without ever straining!

Sturdy 6-Inch Deep Frame

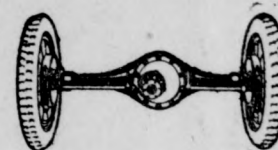

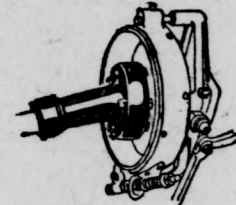

Jewett's frame is 6 inches deep—stoutly braced by four cross members. A wonderful foundation for ruggedness. Jewett owners appreciate the solidity and steadiness of road action this gives. They know the comfort of substantial construction in long life and freedom from the troubles of "flimsy" cars.

Easy Acting Clutch and Transmission

Jewett is amazingly easy to handle. The smooth-acting clutch takes hold so gently that the car is never jerked, the motor never stalled. Jewett's sturdy transmission is extra strong—handles Jewett's big power easily. Change gears quickly or slowly—there's never a "clash" or "miss." Even shift from high gear to second while traveling at 30 miles an hour—there's barely a sound!

Heavy Duty Rear Axle

Jewett's big power demands a staunch rear axle. This is well provided for with a heavy duty rear axle. A recent check-up with Jewett owners shows less than one-tenth of one per cent rear axle trouble—including accidents!

All-Steel Universal Joints

Jewett's universal joint is built of finest steel—with sealed-in lubrication good for 15,000 miles. It operates indefinitely without wear. So back-lash and rattles never occur! Long, trouble-free service is assured.

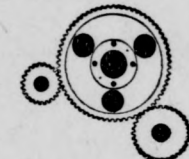

High Pressure Oiling

What wears out machinery? Friction! Friction is metal rubbing against metal—lack of lubrication. Jewett is not merely lubricated—it is high-pressure oiled. Its high-pressure, hollow crankshaft oiling system forces 2 gallons of oil per minute through main bearings and connecting-rod bearings at 20 to 40 lbs. pressure. Metal never touches metal—always a film of oil between. Wear is long postponed!

Extra Large Wrist Pins

Wrist pins carry the weight of every power explosion. Jewett's wrist pins are so large that a wrist pin of a well-known light six drops through one of Jewett's big wrist pins are typical of Jewett's sturdy motor construction.

New All-Metal Timing Gears

Motor timing—gear or chain—is subject to great wear and noise. Jewett provides against this by all-metal, perfectly fitting, helical-cut timing gears. Gears for each motor are accurately fitted, burnished and carefully matched for silence. They do their work—running cam and pump-shafts, quickly and efficiently for the car's long life. (552-4)

Jewett's soundness of design and construction is best proved in its amazing performance, riding comfort, freedom from repairs! Whatever its job—Jewett does it easily, makes play of it.

The real way to test the proved Jewett—is to drive it—put it through its paces. Watch it easily outperform others. Come in or call us and we'll arrange a demonstration for you and your family. Do it today!

The Good Maxwell Will Change Your Conceptions of Performance

The good Maxwell is now far in advance of previous conceptions of four-cylinder performance and value. One of its most notable improvements is the practical elimination of vibration—but the touch of Chrysler engineering genius is evident in every phase of riding and driving.

Maxwell is now the complete realization of the high standards toward which the new organization began to build three years ago.

Ride in the good Maxwell and drive it—and then decide for yourself whether anything in the four-cylinder field, at anywhere near its price, can match it.

necessary, which with stops for fuel made imperative by the standard gas tank, cut into the average.

"During the early part of the run De Palma set the amazing pace of sixty-six miles an hour. An official thermometer on the track at mid-day recorded a temperature of 102 degrees but the car at no time showed signs of overheating. Such a run as this makes a dealer proud to be handling a machine like the Chrysler."

TWO TESTED TIPS

When caught in a driving rain storm and forced to stop until the worst is over, wetting of the coil and other electric equipment under the hood can be prevented by turning the back of the car to the wind.

When making an improvised covering for the gas tank filler pipe to take the place of a lost cap, be sure to allow some opening for air, otherwise the vacuum feed system will not operate.

HILLS NO PROBLEM FOR JEWETT CARS

Paige-Built Machines Have Won Climbing Honors Since Introduction

Several automobile manufacturers, producers of motor cars of more than average power, have profited in central New York state because of winnings at hill-climbing contests held in that part of the country. These profits have been tangible in that they came through largely increased business, according to reports received by the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. from dealers through that section.

Jewett automobiles have been consistent winners in the various hill-climbing contests since their inception in 1922, says Ralph H. Bliss, 219 West Colorado boulevard, local Paige and Jewett dealer. This was the same year during which the Jewett was announced to the public. The automobile was advertised and sold as a motor car of great power. The central New Yorkers who had purchased the Jewetts tried them in the hill-climbing contest and were successful, as a history of these events shows.

This year Witbeck Brothers in Albany and the Grody Motor Car Co. in Syracuse, entered two Jewett specials in the hill-climbs in their respective cities and won first and second places. New records for the hills were also established.

Both the Grody Motor Car Co. and the Witbeck Brothers have informed the Jewett Six builders that sales are increasing by leaps and bounds.

Snowflakes are used by silk manufacturers extensively as patterns.

IMPROVEMENTS IN AUTO BUSINESS NEW STUDEBAKER GOOD BARGAIN

Many Changes for Better in Models Now Being Displayed Here

The standard six, new six in the Studebaker line, of its three six cylinder cars, handled by the Packer Motor Co. Inc., has features which make it unlike any other automobile seen on American thoroughfares, automotive engineers declare.

New body lines, developed after two years of secret study behind closed doors by Studebaker body engineers, suggest the latest refinements of designing, yet are wholly original in effect.

The two standard six duplex models are a revolutionary step in automotive design. There is a duplex phaeton, seating five passengers, and the three passenger duplex roadster. They are cars of the most original and striking beauty.

These new duplex models, which are also offered on the newly designed special and big six—solve the open-closed car problem, it is widely agreed by motorists and engineers; for they combine, it is pointed out, the advantages of old-type open cars with the comfort and snug protection of the closed car.

With the duplex body, the touring radius of motorists is vastly increased. They need fear neither wind nor rain. While they now must endure a drenching, struggling to fit on the car's, the new car is converted in five seconds into a snug, dry "closed car" as cozy as the family fireside.

Another radical forward step in motor car building is the announcement by Studebaker that closed models of the new standard six will be finished in lacquer—a new and permanent finish that enriches the car with a dull satin tone. Color scheme, too, is new and smart—light gray bodies with upper panels in dark gray. The new cowl and head lights, the new radiator and hood all serve to make the standard six most distinguished and unusually fine looking.

Has Unit Power Plant

The new standard six is more powerful and heavier than the light six of previous years. It continues however the Studebaker designed offset valve type engine, but the fuse power has been increased 25 per cent. The new engine, refined for huge, genuine balloon tires, with natural second and growth hickory wheels, are regular equipment. The steering gear has been specially designed for ease in handling with balloon tires, a point women appreciate. Very large and powerful two wheel brakes will be regular equipment.

Remarkable New 4-Wheel Brakes
Optional are Studebaker's new hydraulic four-wheel brakes. These are the first hydraulic brakes that operate by power of motor, rather than the driver's foot, ever used on an American car. They are absolutely non-locking. A new emergency brake operates from a lever on the dash, multiplying braking effort four times, through the propeller shaft.

A new bumper attachment, front and rear, prevents the usual weakening of the frame and the marring of the looks of the car. The nineteen-gallon gas tank is a three-seam container, seams solder-soaked, leak-proof. It is protected by an attractive dust shield.

DON'T DO THIS

Any driver who stops his car on a curve or who attempts to pass another car there indulges in one of the most reprehensible practices of the unthinking road user. To those guilty of doing this when not driven to it by necessity no ordinary punishment can be considered as being too drastic.

Two Trainloads of Buicks Are Sent to Foreign Shores Lately

Granting that the automobile business is a fair barometer of general commercial conditions and certainly we have almost it so at home, the comeback of Europe is going to be much quicker than even the most optimistic have dared to hope, says E. T. Strong, general sales manager of the Buick Motor company.

The sale of Buick cars certainly sets at naught the almost universal predictions that Europe's prosperity was to come well into the future and only after some very carefully planned and well executed economic stimulations.

Two trainloads of Buick cars bound for foreign shores left the Buick factories during the third week of September, one on the 15th and another on the 20th.

While the shipment of trainloads of automobiles for export will undoubtedly be a surprise to many, asserts Ray Galvin, sales manager for Tanner & Hall, local dealer, it is rather a common thing with the Buick. During the month of August, for instance, five trainloads of Buicks left the factories for exporting points, and trainload shipments for September will no doubt surpass the month of August.

Aside from Italy and France where unfavorable tariffs practically prohibit the sale of any American made motor cars, there seems to be no one spot in the world where Buick cars are not being purchased: England, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Colombia, Venezuela, Cuba, Porto Rico, Central America, Mexico, Hawaiian Islands, Philippine Islands, Japan, China, Java, Sumatra, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland, India, Portugal, Greece, Serbia, India, Australia, and South Africa. To all of these points and others, many of them little thought of in our daily life, shipments of Buick cars are constantly on their way. At home, too, Buick sales volume reflects a prosperous condition of business and commerce, another indication that the world is rapidly recovering its business stride. Nations and individuals alike rally quickly, and as they rise, turn to the purchase of necessities. That they buy American motor cars in large quantities is a tribute to American industry.

NEW BATTERY IS BIG SENSATION

Willard Co. Perfects Bone Dry Charged Cell for Motorists' Use

An innovation recently announced by the Willard Storage battery Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, is the perfection of a charged bone-dry battery. The advantage of having an absolutely dry battery, asserts Mr. Kuhn of the Cizek Auto Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard, is the fact that the battery remains absolutely brand new until it is sold to the customer.

Any type of battery with wooden insulation, he says, regardless of its make, is not brand new, for the fact that there is bound to be some moisture, and as long as there is moisture there is life and deterioration.

The new charged bone-dry battery is a new invention, protected by basic patents, and eliminates entirely the moisture element, the manufacturers say, so that the purchaser receives a genuine new battery in every respect—in fact, this is a guaranteed feature, both by the dealer and manufacturer.

The Cizek Auto Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard, is distributor for the Willard battery here.

NO CRANKS WITH LOCAL AUTO FIRM

Carl & Henry Continue Good Business Repairing All Broken Fenders

Many auto repair shops make the claim that they have among their customers a good many "cranks." However, it is quite the reverse with Carl & Henry, 122 West Colorado street, who make a specialty of making new fenders out of old and damaged ones.

These enterprising men say that there is only two "cranks" that they know about and that those "cranks" are themselves. They are cranks for good work and the right kind of service on every job.

Established last June this firm has made a steady growth and are enjoying a constantly increasing business due to the fact that they have stood back of every piece of work turned out and have made it a point to see that the customer was satisfied. While their specialty in the auto repair business is that of repairing fenders, their work includes the repair of leaky gas tanks, blown out mufflers and removing dents from automobile bodies.

Much skill is required to select and shape feathers used on fish-hooks.

AIR COOLING IS GAINING FAVOR

Builder of Round-the-World Planes Tells of Many Advantages

The third famous builder of airplanes to be added to the list of Franklin owners is Donald W. Douglas, president of the Douglas Aircraft company of Santa Monica, Calif., designer and builder of the "round the world" flight planes, according to a representative of the Motor Sales Co., 406 E. Colorado, Orville Wright, Dayton, Ohio, and Glenn Curtis of Hammondsport, N. Y., have for many years been listed as Franklin owners.

In a recently published interview concerning the air-cooled motor, Mr. Douglas points out the advantages it possesses because there is less wear and tear, less chance for the cooling system to suffer from inadvertency on the part of the operator; saving in weight on account of fewer parts, resulting in saving in power and, therefore, greater fuel efficiency.

Mr. Douglas has applied the same means of judging efficiency to the automobile as he uses in regard to the airplane, that is, the ratio between useful load and dead load. The greater the amount of useful load an automobile can carry in proportion to its dead load, the greater its efficiency. Mr. Douglas finds that the Franklin which is the lightest fine car built comes close to his ideas of what an automobile should be.

"The saving in first cost, upkeep and operating cost is much the same in the efficient light weight car as an airplane," says Mr. Douglas, "and the trend in automobile design must be towards lighter structures, consistent, of course, with durability and safety."

More than 500 treaties have been filed with the league of nations.

SALES OF MOONS CONTINUE GOOD

Increase Is Noted During Summer Months Over That of Year Ago

Domestic sales of Moon cars for the past three months—June, July and August—were more than fifteen per cent ahead of the sales volume for the same period of 1923, according to information just made public by the Moon Motor Car company, St. Louis.

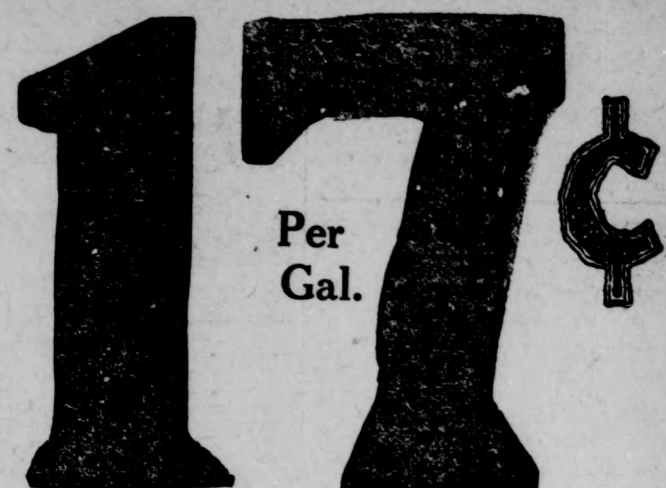

This increase, made during the summer months, considered the slowest selling season in the automobile industry (and, this, too, in a year of sub-normal business) indicates a healthy activity in the automobile industry and a strong demand for Moon cars.

In view of the fine showing made during the summer, it is expected that the last quarter of the year will show even greater improvement and that the volume of sales for the last half of this year will far exceed the first half year's business.

Export shipments of Moon automobiles are running 30 per cent ahead of shipments of the same period last year, according to Oscar Penn, manager of the Penn Motor Co., 510 East Broadway, distributor connections in practically all civilized countries of the world, but the bulk of Moon cars exported at this time are going to Europe, Australia, and South America.

WORTH REMEMBERING

Never attempt to pass another car on the highway until you have first made certain that the car behind isn't trying to pass you at the same time. Many a driver has turned over to the left side of the road preparatory to passing a car ahead only to be sideswiped by the car behind which gave no warning of its intention.

Have you seen this new car? —It is a closed-open car!

A WEEK ago the new Studebaker Special Six DUPLEX-PHAETON was first announced.

Today, countless thousands of people are talking about this entirely new type of car.

One moment it is a closed car—in five seconds it can be transformed into a delightful, airy, open car. But it is always the closed car in deep soft-cushions, beautiful fittings and finish and luxurious riding comforts.

When you see it and ride in it you will know why it has made so profound a sensation—you will realize then that it gives you more than the finest open car can ever give you, plus the comfort and protection of the closed car.

And all at the price of an open car!

And this is the new DUPLEX BODY on the famous Special Six Chassis.

Hundreds of thousands of owners all over this country and abroad have given the Studebaker Special Six a name for value, dependability and performance second to no other automobile.

The new Studebaker Special Six retains all the qualities which make great reputation—to these have been added every real improvement which science and owner-service could suggest.

Even aside from the sensational new DUPLEX BODY—the Studebaker Special Six has no superior in value in any car yet built. It was the conscientious intention of Studebaker in planning and designing the new Special Six to make it just such a leader—to that end every resource of the great Studebaker organization has been concentrated.

Even if we had the space we could not begin to tell you of the very many new and unusual features which indicate its superiority.

Certainly no words could do justice to its distinctive beauty.

In appearance it is unlike any other American car—yet its long, low, broad, sweeping lines are conservative, crisply stylish and in beautifully good taste.

Think of the new Studebaker Special Six Duplex-Phaeton as the ultimate in value and performance in a five-passenger car—think of it as a car matchless in practical convenience and desirability.

But to appreciate the sparkling beauty of its totally new lines you must see it. To know its perfection of operation and performance you must ride in it and drive it.

If you have not seen this NEW type car—come today!

Couple to Re-Marry To Share Child's Love

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—

Mother love and a father's devotion to one child has reunited a divorced couple after events more strange than fiction.

Elva M. Pyler was so determined that her husband Thomas should not see 3-year-old Jean he stole her away and secreted her out of the state, it was revealed in Judge J. W. Summerfield's court.

Pyler was jailed and for six months he has been adamant regarding the whereabouts of the offspring. Frantic with worry the divorced woman agreed to re-marry him in order that they may share Jean together.

However, the woman assured the judge the marriage will not take place until Jean is back home. Pyler has been released from jail.

Study Being Made of New Railroad Engine

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—H.

W. Whalen, superintendent of the Los Angeles division of the Southern Pacific railroad, is the possessor of a new private car, "Los Angeles," which is enabling him at the present time to make a special study of the new oil burning engines known as the 2-10-2 series which have a 306,000-pound pull capacity at the drive wheel.

According to rail officials these engines give the Los Angeles division greater fuel economy for the loads hauled and by carrying more water they are able to speed up freight schedules.

Metal Terminals Best For Use on Batteries

Use metal terminals on battery

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST ESSAYS

Finance Corporation to Give

Three $100 Awards

For Letters

Anyone in need of some extra

Christmas dollars—and who isn't?—stands an excellent chance to add a cool $100 to the Yuletide bankroll, and at the same time brush up on some valuable information concerning the mortgage and finance business, declares Marvin Smith, president of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation, 218 South Brand boulevard, with branch offices in Hollywood and Pasadena.

"It's easy," says Mr. Smith. "Here's how. The Gibraltar Finance Corporation is offering three prizes of $100 each for the three best letters telling why the stock of the mortgage and finance companies in general and the Gibraltar Finance Corporation in particular is the safest and best kind of a bet. That's all. Could anything be easier? There is not a string or a ribbon tied to this offer, either. All it takes is a little knowledge of the game, and the determination to win.

Start Action Today

"The fellow who does things 'tomorrow' never gets them done, so, Mr. Reader, as soon as you have read this story take down the old ink bottle and pen and set to work. You can write your arguments in about 300 words in one hour. Fold the letter, slip it into an envelope and address it to the Gibraltar Finance Corporation, at 218 South Brand boulevard, Glendale. It will be treated confidentially and given careful consideration. If yours is the magic letter the hundred bucks will be yours on October 20, the date of the closing of the contest.

"The Gibraltar Finance Corporation is an organization which is buying and selling mortgages, trust deeds, commercial paper and the like. It is a $1,000,000 corporation backed by an unusual amount of brains, integrity and money. It is fighting the game hard and is winning wherever the trick and hard work can turn the trick. There are many ways a concern of this kind can profit through transactions along its line and the men at the head of this firm are wise enough to take advantage of every chance of increasing the profits of the corporation, which, incidentally, means larger dividends for the stockholders.

Future Looks Bright

"The mortgage and finance corporations of Southern California have come into being through the extreme demand for homes. Thousands of people are continuing to come here almost daily. These people must have homes, and most of these must be financed through mortgage and finance organizations, which fills a need that cannot be supplied by the regular financial institutions. The field for organizations such as the Gibraltar Finance Corporation is expanding with wonderful rapidity. The time for a corporation of this calibre in this field is ripe. The future holds out unlimited possibilities. For the wage earner and the 'man of means' alike, the stock of this corporation holds the safest kind of an investment with a guarantee of unusually large and satisfying returns.

Clean-Cut Affair

"There are no 'ifs' or 'buts' connected with the letter writing contest started by this corporation. It is clean-cut and fair. The reader simply writes the letter and submits it. With others the letter will be read by judges selected from different cities of this section. If it is selected as one of the best three you get the best for 100 shining dollars. That's all there is to it. If you haven't got the pep to write this letter and send it in you don't deserve to win. If you have your 'better half' and yourself may be sporting a 'new suit of rags' before a month has passed—and it's just time for that winter suit, too.

"On your letter don't fail to state where you want your check sent, or phone Glendale 4553-J for information."

Dancing Is Real Art Says Local Teacher

Miss Viola Gaylord, teacher of dancing at the Emerson School of Self-Expression, in a recent interview, expressed the opinion that dancing naturally and easily was the surest path to success.

"One must get enjoyment out of it without making it hard work. Only then is it a real pleasure," she says. "As soon as one can dance without toiling hard as if he were running over a plowed field, then he has attained a good thing. In our oldest histories recorded, the people danced as a matter of religious sentiment, a method of interpreting their feelings and emotions. Real art in any of its forms can be attained only by constant effort, and constant effort in dancing means perfect ease, perfect health, perfect poise and a forceful personality. Art is always soft, smooth and beautiful, there is nothing harsh or jarring about it."

ROTARIANS HEAR OPPOSITION MADE REGISTERING PLAN TO BOND ELECTION

Service Clubs to Join in Move to Get Citizens
Out at Election

Service clubs of Glendale are going to put out red, white and blue pamphlets addressed to "The Stockholders of the United States" and give it thorough distribution in this city and environs urging citizens to register and vote at the November 4 election. It was revealed at the Rotary club luncheon this noon in the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse by Roy L. Kent, chairman of the public affairs committee.

There will be 10,000 or more pamphlets printed and the distribution will be handled by the Boy Scouts, it was stated.

In Bond Parade
The Rotary club also discussed participation in the municipal bond parade to be held Monday afternoon and those with cars will assemble at Wilson and Louise streets shortly after 1 o'clock.

Leslie Levell, president of Glendale Union High school student body, spoke to the club about the football game Saturday. Dr. Warren Z. Newton invited members to attend the Rotary Scout troop's meetings at the Broadway Grammar school Friday evenings.

Owen Emery, Preston Hatch, Willis Lusby and Ruie Downing were named members of the reception committee for October.

Ed "Poppy" Jones had charge of the program and told of his confectionery business, introducing Rubin Jaffe, advertising manager, and J. R. Duffy, assistant manager of the Los Angeles Ice Cream Co.

Talks on Advertising
Mr. Jaffe talked on advertising, pointing out that the three most effective methods are window display, mail and newspapers. Regarding the latter he said: "A representative of The Glendale News can tell you the merits of newspaper advertising."

Window displays are the cheapest and most effective means of moving merchandise. A direct appeal may be made the buyer through the mail and newspapers get best results when advertising is reasonable. Timeliness, consistency, snappy copy, plenty of white space, are productive of good results in newspaper advertising, the speaker advised the Rotarians.

Visitors at today's meeting included Albert G. Hesse, Orange; W. C. Wickenden, San Luis Obispo; R. C. Merryman, Simsbury, Conn.; George L. Ralston, R. J. Tobin, A. W. McCord, C. Sumner Jones, S. G. Cheroske and Art Lynch of Los Angeles.

Present Dynamiters At Student Meeting

The "Dynamiters," crack G. U. H. S. football team, were presented to the student body in a startling tableau at a Broadway high school auditorium this morning, when, following the showing of a Dupont educational reel on "Dynamite, Its Manufacture and Use," the screen was lifted and there on the stage sat the team, in full regalia.

Coch Norman C. Hayhurst then introduced the members of the varsity and junior elevens, following with the announcement that the "Dynamiters" will tackle with the U. S. C. freshmen, 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the Coliseum in Los Angeles, as the first half of a double-header whose concluding feature is a clash between Cal. Tech. and U. S. C.

The new black and red student body caps, which are expected to be much in evidence at Saturday's game, were greeted with approval at this morning's assembly.

Advancement Association to State Stand Taken by
That Organization

Glendale's bond issue election was the topic of discussion at the luncheon of the Glendale Advancement association today noon, and following an hour given over to talks both for and against the proposition, a committee of five, including President C. W. Ingledue and Secretary H. H. Nelson, was named to publish literature for distribution concerning points which have not, they say, been explained to the citizens.

Charges that misrepresentation had been made when it was stated that the advancement association had endorsed the bond issue election, were made and talks were given by Mr. Ingledue, G. F. Chandler and H. M. Brown and others. Members explained that the association did not stand against all of the propositions, and the purpose of the literature would be to state the stand taken on all the measures. The committee which will prepare the pamphlets, with the president and secretary, is made up of H. M. Brown, J. M. McClish and Ted Mink.

Wife's Last Wish Balked

CRIST HANSON is thwarted in his effort to take his little son back to Sweden, as he promised his wife when she lay on her death bed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Toiling over the trail to Chicago, on foot, with a child in his arms, is Crist Hanson, thwarted in an attempt to comply with his wife's dying wish. Mrs. Hanson's life wasted away in Colorado. After she lay on her deathbed she made Crist promise that he would take their infant son back to their old home in Sweden.

After Hanson buried his wife, there was little money left. So he pulled a knapsack over one shoulder, and taking his little son in his arms, he set out for New York on foot.

Arrived here after many weary days on the trail, he sought to arrange to work his way to Sweden. Perhaps he could have shipped as a sailor if it hadn't been for the him. But there was no job for him.

Thus balked, Crist decided to go back to his former home in Chicago, and he is on his way.

"The names of the men and women who were selected as electors for La Follette and Wheeler will not appear on the November ballot, but voters who are in favor of the election of La Follette and Wheeler and those many thousands who believe in fair play will have an opportunity to express their indignation and send thirteen electoral votes to the electoral college to cast their state's thirteen votes for La Follette and Wheeler.

"The Socialist party has a place on the ballot, and since no other opportunity is left open to the supporters of La Follette and Wheeler to express their choice, they should unhesitatingly vote for the electors named on the ballot and pledged to cast their votes in the electoral college for La Follette and Wheeler."

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Irregular movements in stock prices featured the listed stock market today. Under reduced trading, as compared with yesterday's million share session, stocks in some groups continued their upward progress while other groups were declining sharply under profit-taking and short selling.

The oil stocks were the first to feel the effects of this reactionary trend, but even here price movements were not uniform, independent oil shares like Cosden breaking sharply while Standard Oils both in the listed market and on the curb were advancing in good form. Concentrated selling of Cosden Oil was based on repeated rumors of contemplated new financing by the company, which rumors have not been officially denied. The stock sold more than a point lower at 24 1/2, while other independents like Sinclair, Phillips, California Pete and Marland declined fractionally.

Missouri Pacific preferred sold in good volume around top prices, but yielded later to profit-taking. New Haven, New York Central, Southwestern, Atchafon, Baltimore & Ohio, and Southern Railway were also in good form and St. Paul made a slight recovery.

The payment stocks did not make much response to the heavy increase reported in railroad buying of new cars, locomotives, etc. New York Air Brake was the most active of the low-priced equipments, advancing in good form from 42 1/2 to 44 1/2, while Baldwin was heavy and the remainder of this group inactive.

Stock sales today 981,000 shares; bonds $16,851,000.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Bonds were heavy sellers again on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange today, Edison leading the list while other California utilities were active. 10,000 Southern California Gas 7 1/2 sold at $105.

In the stocks Julian preferred was off 1/4, closing at noon at $18. Common was sold lightly at $11.50. Union Associates opened at $57.75 and made 1/4 gain, among the other active oils.

In the mines Richmond was a heavy seller, 15,000 shares changing hands at $3. Simon Silver and Gold Ore also were active. Industrial stocks and utilities were quiet.

In Pasadena, Glenoaks boulevard will cross the new Linda Vista bridge and will be routed through the city of Pasadena as advantageously as possible. This matter is receiving the attention of the Glenoaks Improvement association.

The City Planning commission, composed of T. W. Watson, chairman; S. C. Kinch, Harry Hague and John H. Randall, members, and City Engineer John F. Johannsen, still have certain details to work out in connection with this new boulevard, such as widening, rounding of corners, etc. At present the commission is giving consideration to the establishment of a uniform grade from Grand View avenue to Burbank.

Should Co-operate
The reason the City Planning commission recommended the project and name before completing the above details was to encourage and facilitate the procuring of certain rights-of-way from property owners for the opening up and widening of certain stretches.

Practically all the property owners are willing to dedicate land where necessary, but each has been waiting until the boulevard became a reality by official action of the City Planning commission and City Council. This now having been done, every property owner should show his appreciation by co-operating to the fullest extent and dedicating such rights-of-way as may be necessary to open up and carry out the widths of the boulevard as adopted by the City Planning commission.

Completion of Stretch
The following property owners have been appointed to assist W. J. McIntyre, rights-of-way man in the city engineer department, in procuring necessary deeds for opening and widening where necessary Glenoaks boulevard from Burbank to Grand View avenue: E. D. Knuchell to cover stretch on north side of street from Burbank to Sonora street.

H. J. Kohl, north side of street from Sonora to Grand View avenue.
C. L. Jenkins and J. A. Gyser, south side of street from Burbank to Grand View avenue.

Some kinds of soil and water act on cast iron so that it becomes soft and useless.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. A. E.—The cause of the brown spots, or so-called "liver spots" which sometimes come during pregnancy and other periods of life, is not known. There is probably some disturbance of the internal secretory glands which have to do with the pigmentation of the skin. Constipation may be a causative factor. Sometimes peroxide of hydrogen will bleach the spots. Peeling of the skin may be done by an expert skin specialist.

Headaches—There are many things that cause headaches, indications in diet, anemia, disturbances of the ovaries or the uterus (that may be the cause in your case, from what you tell me), eye strain, auto-intoxication, over-weight, bad air, bad tonsils, decayed teeth, and the like. You had better have a thorough physical examination to find out the cause of your trouble. You say you are getting rheumatism in your joints also. It looks as though you might have some chronic source of poisoning. It may be possible that you have joint trouble from absorption from putrefactive material in the colon. Your diet, bowels and all your health habits need consideration. We have articles on balanced diet, auto-intoxication and constipation which might help you. Send for them. Send a large enough self-addressed stamped envelope and better put two stamps on it.

Fat Tunes In California—Dear Doctor:—Two years ago this month I weighed 206 pounds. My usual weight was 165, but I had come to California and gradually increased to the 206. I consulted a physician who recommended your book "Diet and Health with Key to the Calories." I followed your rules and in eight months I weighed 143 pounds. I am in perfect health, no wrinkles and am 35 years of age. Since my reduction, I have gained only two pounds, staying at 145. You see I have learned to eat properly. I still have to reduce my abdomen somewhat. That seems to be my trouble. Will you please recommend some exercise?—Mrs. D.

So many people gain in weight when they go to California! I think the reason is that the fruit and vegetables are so plentiful and so luscious and so many people think that one can indulge to the limit in these foods without gaining. They don't know that a big orange has as many calories of

Tomorrow—Answers To Mothers

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual answers to all the questions you ask me as possible; if they are of general interest, I will try to answer them if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

CHAPTER LXI
"She had no jewels, my mother," Konrad said. "But this she wore always in her plain gown. And this her son did not sell when it would have brought him bread! He gives it to his second mother."

The treasure that she thought it, her face, flooding with happy color, betrayed; Hilary's blue eyes shown like stars as she thanked him. It amused him to see how tenderly she fastened the pin into her sober dark blue velvet gown.

Their moment alone was over; Kronski being sought, was identified, was carried away to sign a photograph. Hilary returned the children to their mother with so transfixed a face that Louise Jeffries looked at her in surprise. And the rest of that afternoon, although Kronski almost immediately left the hall, and she did not see him again, was a time of deep and exquisite happiness to the girl. She had been missing him so cruelly, she had felt so alone and so unnecessary. Now at least she knew that he still liked her, that he had missed her, too, and that his old respect and affection were not touched by the episode of the balcony a week ago.

She and Butterfly and Mrs. Spaulding drove home together at six o'clock. The frightful crowding and pushing and general excitement of the bazaar had wearied them all; but in Hilary's case it was a delicious weariness, a weariness that looked forward to an hour on the couch before the fire, with a book and with dreams. Dora, on the other hand, seemed restless and discontented.

"I think it's horrible," commented Dora, "all those women rushing and coasting about, and nobody managing anything, and people grabbing money and screaming questions. Wait! lost a perfectly stunning overcoat; he said the girl at the coat-room told him that she had only been there a few minutes, she didn't know who had had it when he checked the coat. Poor Walt went through hundreds of them piled up on the floor; he said it was a perfect mess, and this girl was laughing and talking with some young man all the time, and paid not the least attention!"

"Disgraceful!" Mrs. Spaulding said, frowning.
"And Cissy told me that at their booth Little Ransom sold two seventy-five-dollar handmade negligees for seven dollars and a half apiece!" Hilary contributed.

"Louise found a little box on a chair, with about eighteen dollars in small silver, and a book and pencil," Dora added. "Imagine leaving it on a chair! It's simply disgusting! Shall you go back, Hilary?"

"I don't know. I might right after dinner, and wait until Mrs. Herbert comes—she said she'd be late. Tomorrow night is really my night."

"I wouldn't go back if you paid me!" Dora yawned. "Craig isn't home, and I shall go to bed, with one of those new French books. Did you see Konrad?"

"Yes, just for a moment. I'd forgotten Craig was in Mount Holly," Hilary said, composedly. "He gets back tomorrow."

"Or early on Sunday. We're all going down to the Thanksgiving party at Piping Rock on Sunday. I asked Konrad if he wouldn't come; he's taking those Russian doctors to the opera tonight; just a man's party. It's Gornoff, luckily. But he said he'd telephone in the morning."

Well, after all, it might be wonderful to be like Dora, Hilary reflected, sinking into her cushions a few minutes later, her street attire replaced by a wrapper, with her tired feet comfortably propped, and a tray of fragrant tea beside her. It might be wonderful to be so surface calm, so positive of one's ability to carry off any situation. Hilary had been shaken to the depths of body and soul, made weak and despairing, by that little talk before this fire only a few evenings ago. But Dora had evidently felt that the storm would entirely blow over; and the storm had apparently done exactly that. Konrad and Hilary were friends, Dora and Konrad were perhaps something more, and life went on, with bazaar and motor-cars and tea-trays, in just its usual groove.

Presently Dora came in, in a loose silk robe, and Mrs. Spaulding came in, and was persuaded to share her tea. She did so somewhat uncomplainingly, sitting erect, with the strings of her widow's bonnet loosened and hanging. She was tired; almost nothing was said. Hilary felt that she could sleep for ever, sinking into this downy comfort, with her feet upon a low stool; it was agony to pull herself up, bathe, and change, and set forth for the bazaar again at half-past seven. The afternoon's confusion was augmented, if possible, under the

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

Only the seating capacity of Horace Murphy's tent theater at Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, limits the crowds that nightly throng to see that strong human interest drama, "Sainted Sinners," being presented this week by Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians), declares J. A. Menard, manager.

The theme of the play is hypocrisy, a serious thought for the day; yet, though the play endeavors to be faithful to life, it does not forget that Murphy audiences love good laughs. Particularly during the first half of the third act does "Sainted Sinners" get hilarious. Anyone who has ever gone through the embarrassment of asking for the heart of his "sweetie" and then asking her dad or big brother for her hand, will enjoy the delicious foreshadowing of this scene.

Because the seating capacity of the tent is limited and thousands will want to see the old favorite, Mr. Menard urges Glendaleans to purchase their tickets in advance for "Sainted Sinners" at J. J. Schulte's drug store, 251 North Brand boulevard. The curtain rises nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

bright night lights. Hilary felt aching and weary as she straightened her particular wares to look inviting, and murmured with other early arrivals. A dance was in progress in the very center of the floor; the air grew hot and dusty and close; the incessant jazzing was an outrage to Hilary's trained ears. Feet shuffled, voices asked the same monotonous questions: How much is this, please? How much is this, please?

At half-past ten she slipped away, breathing in deep breaths of the fresh night air, and walking the seven or eight blocks to Dora's house over frozen, hard sidewalks upon which her quick step rang clearly. The Spaulding mansion seemed to be quiet for the night when she went in. Banks, on duty until midnight, admitted her with a sleepy bow.

"I think Madam's gone to bed, Miss," Dora was there, reading before the fire. She sprang up, her eyes glittering.

"Hilary," she said, breathlessly, coming straight to her sister. "Tell me something: tell me the truth! Did you go to the opera with Konrad tonight?"
"Oh, Butterfly, this is horrible!" Hilary protested, sick at heart. "I've just come from the bazaar; I've not seen Konrad

THE GATEWAY

The cast of "Single Wives," the First National Production which is now showing at the Gateway Theater, Thursday, Friday and Saturday is significant of the quality of this much discussed photodrama.

Co-featuring Corinne Griffith and Milton Sills, two of America's best beloved stars, the support cast is remarkable in that it contains names that have played a prominent role in the growth and development of the great amusement industry.

Kathlyn Williams, who is seen as Dorothy Van Clark, is best remembered as the heroine of the celebrated serial, "The Adventures of Kathlyn." Since her advent into the multiple reel dramas she has been starred and featured in many pictures, including the first "Spoilers," in which she played Cherry Malotte.

Lou Tellegen, whose work on the legitimate stage as leading man for Duse, Bernhardt and Rejane placed him in the forefront of the world's great actors, is considered one of the screen's handsomest men. Only recently he was starred on Broadway in "Blind Youth" and was especially engaged for the role of Martin Prayle in "Single Wives."

Henry B. Walthall, often called the Mansfield of the screen, portrays the role of Dexter, whose love for Dorothy Van Clark creates chaos in the double triangle of the story. Phyllis Haver, possessor of the celebrated bathing suit figure, appears as Marion Eldridge, the likeable drunk of "Flaming Youth" and "The Perfect Flapper."

Phillips Smalley, former director and husband of Lois Weber, and Jere Austin, who also appeared in "Sundown," Thelma Morgan Converse, daughter of Henry Hays Morgan, former consul to Belgium, make up the balance of the principals.

THE GLENDALE

"Little Robinson Crusoe" with Jackie Coogan concludes today at the Glendale Theater. Friday and Saturday the feature is Dustin Farnum in "The Man Who Won."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MOUSE TEACHER

Uncle Wiggily was hopping past the Hollow Stump School in the woods one day when, through an open window he heard a sad voice saying:

"Oh, please, Lady Mouse Teacher, can't I be let out? I want to go and play ball with the other boys."

"Ah, ha!" thought the rabbit gentleman to himself. "At first I thought it might be that the Lady Mouse has the bad Fox shut up in a closet. But when I hear about ball playing I know it can't be the Fox—the animal boys wouldn't let the Fox play with them. This must be one of the school pupils of the Lady Mouse. But why won't she let him go home?"

Uncle Wiggily peeked into the window and saw Jackie Bow Wow, one of the puppy dog boys, sitting in a front seat looking sad. Jackie was the only pupil in the school room, as it was nearly 4 o'clock, and school was out at half past three.

"What's the matter with Jackie, Miss Mouse?" asked Uncle Wiggily of the teacher.

"Oh, come in, Uncle Wiggily," invited Miss Mouse. "I am sorry to say that Jackie was a bad boy in school this afternoon. He barked right out loud and he shot one of his marbles at Johnnie Bushytail."

"Well, Johnnie tickled me with his tail!" whined Jackie. "Oh, please ask her never to do it again, and I want to play ball! I'm the pitcher on our side!"

"Jackie must stay and help me clean off the blackboards as a punishment," said the Lady Mouse Teacher.

"Suppose I cleaned off the blackboards for you?" asked Uncle Wiggily with a bright twinkle of his pink nose. "I don't mind staying in after school. Let Jackie go, Miss Mouse, and I will stay in his place."

"Very well," squeaked the lady mouse, after thinking about it a few moments. "If Uncle Wiggily is willing to take your punishment, Jackie, and if you will promise not to be bad in school again, I'll let you go."

"Oh, thank you!" barked Jackie. "Thank you, Uncle Wiggily. I'll be good, teacher!" Away rushed Jackie to play ball while Uncle Wiggily, with a jolly smile, and another twinkle of his pink nose, began to clean the white chalk marks off the blackboards. The Lady Mouse Teacher sat at her desk, correcting some spelling papers, when, all of a sudden, in through the open window jumped the Woosie Wolf.

"Ah, ha!" howled the Wolf, making faces at the Teacher Mouse, and sticking his tongue out at Uncle Wiggily. "Ah, ha! I have caught you! I saw you come to school, and I came after you!"

"Well, you aren't going to get me!" cried the brave rabbit gentleman. Taking the blackboard erasers, filled with chalk dust, the bunny clapped them together right under the nose of the bad Wolf. A big cloud of which chalk dust floated in the air. Some of the dust got up the Wolf's nose and made him sneeze "ker choo!" as well as "ker snitzi!" And when the Wolf was sneezing, Uncle Wiggily, behind the cloud of chalk dust, skipped up to the desk of the Lady Mouse.

"Come on, Miss Mouse!" whispered the rabbit. "The Wolf can't see us because of the chalk dust cloud—it's like a smoke screen. We can run out of the back door!"

This they did, and when the Wolf finished ker-choosing, and the cloud of chalk dust had blown away, my goodness! Uncle Wiggily wasn't in the school room at all.

"Fooled again!" snarled the Wolf, as sniffing and snuffing, he jumped out of the window and ran back to the woods. "Fooled again!"

Uncle Wiggily was glad he had stayed after school in Jackie's place, else the Wolf might have nibbled the nice Lady Mouse Teacher. And, if the piano stool doesn't dress up like a radio and scare the phonograph so it jumps up on the clock shelf, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily opening a window.

Merchants Urged to Join In Bond Parade

Every business house in Glendale is urged to have one or more machines in the parade which is to be held Monday afternoon to stimulate interest in the coming bond issue election on Tuesday. G. O. Russell, chairman of the parade committee reports success so far and indications are that more interest will be shown than ever before in an election in Glendale.

Starting at 3 o'clock it is planned to form a line on Orange street facing north. A schedule will be prepared by M. B. Towman, showing the location of the line and point of formation. Merchants desiring to display their names on the machines will have an excellent opportunity to gain some good advertising as the parade is sure to attract a great deal of attention through the city. The parade committee chairman requests that in addition to the name of the firm the entrant in the parade display something regarding the election, such as "Vote for the bonds" or something similar.

HERE'S WHAT WILL HAPPEN—PERHAPS

By H. C. HAMILTON
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The baseball IF table, manufactured by figure sharks for the fan who wants to know what will be the standing if so and so happens, will be of small circumstance in the National league controversy by tonight if the New York Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates again today.

"If" that happens, the Giants will be almost a mathematical certainty to be the 1924 National league champions.

Great tribute will be paid John J. McGraw, as has often been done in past years, in case he drives to his fourth consecutive championship, and also great praise will be heaped on his courageous team. Nothing but courage, and lots of it, could have carried a broken club like the Giants over to two straight victories over the Pittsburgh club and the practical clinch for the National league pennant.

Two More Victories
He put a first baseman on second base in place of baseball's ranking second sacker, replaced a star at third with a substitute, sent a second string first baseman to the field to round out the inner works, placed substitutes in the outfield, and then won against what often has been termed the best team in the league. The victories have been made by their utter disregard of their opponents' playing.

Two more victories for the Giants would make it impossible for them to fare worse than a tie and, of course, if Brooklyn should drop one more while the Giants were winning two, the race would be over. Pittsburgh can take the pennant by winning six straight if the Giants lose three of their four and the Dodgers break even.

Last Game Today
Brooklyn does not play today, but the Giants and Pirates meet for the last game of their series at the Polo grounds.

In the American league the pace continues unchanged. The Senators lead the second-place Yankees by two games, with each facing four more games. Three victories would clinch the pennant for Washington, even though the Yankees finish with four straight wins.

Montana Fighter to Make Southern Bow

Buster Brandon, lightweight champion of Montana, will make his first appearance in Southern California tonight, when he hooks up with Buck E. Curtis, dashing young glove artist from Long Beach, in the main event at the Chief Petty Officers' club in San Pedro. Matchmaker Luke Lucas brought the Montana fighter here for the purpose of seeing what could be done in the way of getting a good match for Curtis. Six other fights round out what looks like a good card.

TO NAME OFFICERS

Election of officers for the fall term in the Wilson Intermediate school athletic clubs will take place within the next week. Petitions are out now for boys' president. Prominent among the A-8 boys who will probably be named are Charles Heustis and Wendell Sherman.

Frank Robson's A-7 III class team won its first match in the noon schedule Wednesday at Wilson school, when they defeated the A-7 II class team by a narrow margin.

CLUB HOLDS PICNIC

The Girls' Athletic club of the Glendale Union High school on Monday afternoon and evening. Monday afternoon and evening. Miss Florence Knight and other members of the faculty accompanied them.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Brooklyn Dodgers held gamely on, vanquishing the Cubs 6 to 5.

Hornby recorded another home run as the Cards won a 9-to-4 victory from the Phillies.

The Cleveland Indians hit safely nine times, but could score no runs. The Yanks again whipped them, 2 to 0.

The Athletics scored a 4-to-2 victory over the Browns.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Newark, N. J.—Ad Stone, Paterson, outpointed "Young" Stribling, Macon, Ga., twelve rounds.

At Paris, Ill.—Jack Taylor stopped Marcel Nilles, six rounds.

At Aurora, Ill.—Eddie (Kid) Wagner beat Mike Dundee, ten rounds; Ray Miller knocked out Al Gordon, two rounds; Eddie Shea beat Terry McHugh, ten rounds; Vic Hirsch beat Jimmy Gory, eight rounds.

At Los Angeles—Joe Schlocker of Los Angeles won from Johnny Jordan of Sacramento; Johnny Lamar beat Billy Young in the semi-finals.

'The Man Who Beat Yale'

LELAND PARKIN, the wonder man of Iowa university, is ready to lead his team into another campaign, making the fourth in which he has participated. For the past four weeks he has been kicking, passing and running with the ball. He is ready to spring another surprise, it is said.

Dixie Football Teams Look Good on Paper

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Southerners were talking about the Dixie football outlook at the football rules interpretation meeting at the Baltimore, Vanderbilt and Florida loom dangerously, according to the advance information.

The 'Gators will be worth watching, especially by teams in other sections who may hold them cheaply.

Georgia Tech may develop into the tornado of old. There are faintly discernible storm warnings on the Piedmont Hills, a lot depends upon what Bill Alexander does with his material. It looks to be the best he has ever coached. If a sickening thud is heard down Atlanta way it will be the dropping of the famous Heisman shifts.

Alabama promises to rank pretty even with Tech. Swan has some likely material at Tusculoo.

Georgia seems to be in the doldrums and the Auburn of Auburn of Mike Donahue, so they say. Mercer is likely to give Syracuse quite a little teaparty on October 11.

William and Mary is due for a rise this year. Knute Rockne was doing summer school work down there this year and they say a lot of his pupils found time to sit under him. Tasker is a coach who can make a lot of a set of knowing young men.

Garry, the former Princetonian, has material to his liking at Wake Forest, N. C. There is likely to be doings on that Tar Heel quadrangle where North Carolina, North Carolina State, Trinity and Wake Forest are preparing to spring at one another's throat.

William and Mary is due for a rise this year. Knute Rockne was doing summer school work down there this year and they say a lot of his pupils found time to sit under him. Tasker is a coach who can make a lot of a set of knowing young men.

In the middle west, on paper, Illinois and Michigan fill the eye. But look out for Wisconsin. The Badgers are being primed to make trouble. Chicago is sawing wood and saying little, but the whisper is "Star" will spring real football this fall.

Can you picture a team with two Granges in the backfield? Illinois is likely to make a picture of the sort of a real-life movie. In brief keep an eye open for a youth named Kinsey. Information is that he has all the stuff that Grange possesses, with the addition of a quicker mentality.

Bob Zupke is already planning to take advantage of his riches by perpetrating a double reverse play. This should give the opposing defense a lot of thought. Interpretation meeting would have been much more valuable if everyone could have heard everyone else. And to the honorable and talented chairman may be recommended a megaphone to the end that his rulings may ring sonorously as well as judicially throughout the assembled throng.

Interpretations are the more valuable when the rear rows, as well as the front rows hear and know all that is going on.

Jack Renault Being Primed for Dempsey

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Leo Flynn's handling of Jack Renault between now and early next summer, will be worth watching.

The Canadian has a chance to get into an early summer bout with Jack Dempsey, said a friend who was followed by another open air engagement between the winner and Harry Wills.

Renault's encounter with the champion is contingent upon his not being whipped before the time comes for the early summer battle for the championship.

He will probably fight, maybe a lot and outside one or two men, it does not look as though he would be in any special danger.

Dempsey wants Firpo for this early summer bout, but there seems a tendency to put the skirts under Luis. It even looks as if the promoters wish he would go home.

But the Wild Bull is getting obstinate. Now he finds that the Federal authorities may not wish him to remain here in his dead end on staying and if they let him alone he will hang on until next summer, meeting any opponents he can get.

A Firpo-Romero Rojas battle is talked of. He has got to do something, of course, to buck up his automobile business in Buenos Aires. Not a car has been sold since he came to this country, it is said.

Dempsey wants Firpo for this early summer bout, but there seems a tendency to put the skirts under Luis. It even looks as if the promoters wish he would go home.

But the Wild Bull is getting obstinate. Now he finds that the Federal authorities may not wish him to remain here in his dead end on staying and if they let him alone he will hang on until next summer, meeting any opponents he can get.

A Firpo-Romero Rojas battle is talked of. He has got to do something, of course, to buck up his automobile business in Buenos Aires. Not a car has been sold since he came to this country, it is said.

BIG FOOTBALL SQUAD

Over half a million spectators will throng to the Los Angeles Coliseum during the 1924 football season to see the leading college and high school teams of the west play the gridiron sport. The mammoth structure established a new record for Los Angeles football attendance last year when 250,000 saw contests on its gridiron. The two biggest local games of the season will see the University of Southern California playing Stanford on November 8, and Syracuse university on December 6. The Coliseum is expected to be filled to its capacity of 80,000 on both dates.

GRAPPLES WITH COLD

In an attempt to prevent being laid up this football season with colds, Norman Anderson, All Pacific Coast Conference tackle in 1923, is undergoing serum treatment from a local specialist. Anderson has been very sick every year during the fall with colds and his work has been weakened by their effect. He says he is willing to take a chance on anything once, so he is giving the serum a try.

COFFROTH GOES EAST

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 25.—James Wood Coffroth, head of the Tia Juana Jockey club, left here for New York city and other eastern points today on a combined pleasure and business trip. The Tia Juana race meeting for 100 days or more will open Thanksgiving day. Turf followers look for Coffroth to interest Trainer Gene Leigh in racing Epinaur, famous French champion runner, to race at Tia Juana.

The Reds folded up completely as the Boston Braves turned them back twice, 7 to 6 and 5 to 3.

ANGELS GRAB OFF TWO FROM DUCKS

Charley Root Allows Portland But Five Hits and Wins by 8 to 3

By THREE STRIKES

For Southern News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—Marty Krug's Angels soared away to another victory over the Portland Beavers, the second of the series, yesterday at Washington park, 8 to 3. With Vernon's triumph over the Bees, Los Angeles and the Tigers are tied for fourth place in the coast league.

Charley Root, one of the best on the Ducks' pitching staff, allowed a home run by Jim Poole with one in the first gave the visitors two of their three tallies, the other coming in the seventh frame as a result of a pair of walks and two long flies.

Harry Gardner worked on the mound for the Beavers for the first six innings and was replaced by "Buz" Eckert after allowing the ambitious Angels six scores. The Beavers seemed unusually slow on their feet and played anything but tight ball at any time during the combat.

Tigers Even Up
At Salt Lake the Vernon Tigers evened up with the Bees yesterday by taking the second game of the series.

Seattle made it two straight over the league-leading Seals at San Francisco yesterday by a 5 to 4 score. The Seals threatened to tie things up in the ninth, but could only put across two runs.

A ninth inning rally at Sacramento enabled the Solons to knock out the Oakland club, 4 to 3. Manager Howard protected a decision at second in that frame, but the game was played over from there with his team losing.

Holds Bouts to Aid 12-Round Boxing Bill

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 25.—A full house was drawn last night when Tommy Simpson dealt out his all-star card of bouts, a benefit for the twelve-round boxing bill which goes on the November ballot. Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., proved too much for Billy Wallace, clearly outpointing the Oakland boy in the last two rounds. Teddy Silva remained in Los Angeles, so Jack Burns substituted and lost to Johnny Farrin in the semi-windup. Joe Miller and Red Uhlen fought a fast draw. Young Nationalista proved a hit, winning from Billy Bonillas. Eddie Roberts landed Young Dudley. Dynamite Murphy defeated Spec Ramies. Billy Raynes won from Young Carpenter. Sailor Maley defeated Bill Smith.

Following each of the bouts, Assemblyman Harry Morrison, author of the twelve-round boxing bill, gave each of the contestants a watch for their services. Former ring stars and referees who aided the benefit included Tommy Ryan, Bobby Johnston, Spiller Kelly, Jack Welsh and George Brown.

Mondt to Get Chance At Wrestling Crown

"Toots" Mondt, the wrestling cowboy, gets another chance at the world's championship tonight at the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles, when he grapples with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, present holder of the title. Mondt and Lewis, both clearly satisfied their intentions of going into the fray for all they are worth and the result should be a great battle.

Both wrestlers have had somewhat of a peeve since their last match, when Mondt claimed Lewis threw him illegally. Two other bouts are on the card and a full house is assured as a result of advance ticket sales.

Glendale Lightweights Win From Burbank

The Glendale High school 110-pounders won their first practice game yesterday on Moyse field at the Harvard High school from the Burbank midgets after a hard fight, 14-12. Lovell and Monty made the touchdowns for Glendale and Lovell converted each time with a nice place kick.

The 110-pound coaches are to meet tonight and arrange a schedule for the team. Coach Wolf plotted his 110s into the semi-finals for the championship of California. The locals lost to Long Beach in a preliminary to the big Long Beach-Glendale game at the Coliseum.

Ad Stone Is Winner Over Young Stribling

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 25.—Ad Stone, brilliant young fighter of Philadelphia and Paterson, stood today in the fore among the light heavyweights, as a result of his victory over William L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia High school boy, here last night. Stone hammered incessantly at Stribling's stomach, slowly up the conqueror of Mike McGuire and outboxed and outslugged him in twelve rounds. Stone had everything but the punch necessary to stop away his adversary. Only in the third and ninth did Stribling show to advantage. These rounds were even.

CONFERENCE GRID TEAMS AT WORK

Six Institutions Planning on Strong Elevens; Pomona Looks Strongest

By LARRY RAYMOND

Of The Evening News Staff.
The Southern California Conference grid teams are fast rounding into shape for the opening of the 1924 grid season. All six college teams look forward to the championship and the fans can prepare themselves to see some tight battles. It appears that Pomona College still holds the upper hand with practically the same varsity men back and a large gathering of fresh for substitutes. Caltech is as strong if not stronger than last year. Fox Stanton is giving his Engineers plenty of scrimmage with prep teams before he sends them against Coach Gloomy Gus Henderson's monstrous warriors next Saturday. Then too, Occidental, under its new mentor, Coach Nichols, is making fast strides toward the title and a fine aggregation of huskies are doing their daily dozen each afternoon on the Tiger field.

Oxy Guards Field
Coach Sid Nichols has an armed guard around the entire football field keeping an eagle eye out for any scouts from enemy camps. When Oxy goes against Stanford at Palo Alto October 4, she is going to play football with all the stuff she has, according to the coach. The team is going up north and when they come out of the battle with the Red Boys, the Cards will know they were in a real struggle. The Tiger varsity will make its first southern appearance before the public on October 11 when they meet Redlands University at Redlands. This contest should prove more than exciting. Coach Cecil Cushman of the Redland Bulldogs has a big turnout of candidates and some promising material.

S. B. U. C. is anything but a weakling. Although the Grizzly will be light, they will also possess speed and fight. Most of the lettermen have returned and with a flock of players who graduated from the freshmen championship team of last season, are training under the watchful Jimmy Cline. Coach Cline has inaugurated the famous Andy Smith System. Coach Perry is on the job again at Whittier. He feels more than pleased over his group of fifty players. All Madden, Poet Captain in 1921, when the Howling Thousand won the championship, has returned and immediately the Whittier football stock rose a notch.

Postoffice Team Is Awarded Ball Trophy

The postoffice baseball team of the Twilight league, won the cup given by Glendale Community Service for winning eight out of the ten games included in the two series. At a meeting of the team captains last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms called by Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation, Normal Hayhurst, chairman of the Community Service baseball committee presented the large cup to the postoffice nine and a smaller one to the local telephone company team for winning seven out of their ten games. The teams included in the league were Postoffice, Public Service, Ford, Chevrolet, Dowell Electric and Union Labor. The latter two teams did not play the full schedule owing to lateness in entering.

GRIDIRON JOTTINGS

SANTA CLARA, Cal.—The Santa Clara Broncos will stack up against California Saturday in the season's opener in fine shape. Coach Kienholz, who has been working his men hard, says they are 25 per cent improved over last year.

BERKELEY — Walter Rau, guard, is nursing a chipped elbow, and Thatcher, end, is out of practice with an infected leg. Putting of Jimmy Dixon featured the first public scrimmage, witnessed by 2500 students.

STANFORD — With the squad cut down to workable proportions, Coach Warner started today to give his personal attention to the rounding to of the 1924 Cardinal eleven.

WALLA WALLA, Wash.—Three veterans of four years of northwest conference football have returned to Coach Borleske's roster. They are Wyman Hatchford, last year's captain and guard; Freddie Corkrum, quarter, and Frank Hall, fullback.

PORTLAND, Ore.—The Agnetians are negotiating for a game with Multnomah, A. C. to be played October 19.

EUGENE, Ore.—Oregon is ready. With the opening gun to be fired at Salem against Willamette Saturday, Coach Maddock is hopeful.

SEATTLE—George Guttormsen threatens to replace Les Sherman at quarterback in the Husky squad, following his sensational kicking and running back punts in practice. He kicks and passes "left-handed."

LOS ANGELES—Coach Jimmy Cline of the University of California, southern branch, is having his worries with three of his veterans temporarily out of the game due to injuries.

LOS ANGELES — "Honey" Earle, chunky Trojan guardian, has been moved to the backfield, where his work has impressed Coach Elmer Henderson.

England prefers a small apple when it imports from the United States.

'Masked Marvel' Will Place on Ascot Bill

The Ascot Speedway night racing program scheduled for Saturday night should be chock full of thrills. In addition to the large number of regular thrillers, a "masked marvel" is entered to tool the car of Rex Anglin, the driver being an A. A. A. man whose identity must remain secret until after the Fresno board track meet early in October. "Jack" Bullock, eastern dare-devil who hails from Altoona, Pa., the little city which houses one of the two surviving board speedways in the world, is to make his debut at Ascot on Saturday night at the wheel of the car of "Jimmy" Roach, wealthy sportsman. Bullock has won many great races, including a tough contest up Pike's Peak.

Frank Lockhart will make his last appearance at Ascot on Saturday until the middle of October, leaving on Sunday to compete in the Hawthorne Grand Prix in Chicago on October 5. Cliff Bergere, present holder of the Italian Victory Crown, will make a desperate effort to retain the valuable headpiece in opposition to the onslaught of Lockhart, Lockhart, Floyd Roberts, Verne Porter, Eddie Meyer and one other pilot who will qualify before the race. Nine events will be on the program and the first race will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Entries for League Are Now Coming In

Entries in the basketball and volleyball league are already coming into the community service department and it is expected that plans will be completed soon and practice started by the teams. The plans have been turned over to the night school classes, and Normal C. Hayhurst will have charge of the teams. Five teams have

In Anarchy's Shadow

BENITO MUSSOLINI'S grip on Italy is said to have weakened and the grim black threat of anarchy is daily becoming plainer in the entire country.

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Three years ago Italy had a choice between Mussolini and anarchy. Today
Mussolini's iron hand is shaky,
and Italy no longer has a choice;
and anarchy remains.

Observers see Mussolini sitting on a volcano. The volcano is the lawless body which, while it did save Italy for the moment, is the antithesis of civilized methods of government. It is known as Fascism. Its foundation is force.

The volcano has given its warning. The sombre rumble came forth with the disappearance, of the wealthy Socialist Deputy Matteotti, on the eve of his expected exposure of corruption in the Fascist ministry.

The Matteotti case has Italy's nerves on edge.

Mussolini promptly expressed his indignation at the deed, but his expressions were unconvincing in view of previous statements such as this:

"There is nothing to discuss on the subject of internal policy.
That which happens, happens by my precise and direct will, and by my explicit orders, for which I naturally assume the full and personal responsibility. And, those who attempt to defame Fascism abroad or undermine it at home, should know that their deeds imply the severest risks. The enemies of the Fascist state need not be surprised if I treat them sternly as such." He made the statement a year ago.

Mussolini cannot leave his throne on the volcano. He must wait to be blown off. He is bound up with Fascism. He cannot govern without the Fascists and their methods. He cannot disband the irregular Fascist militia which up to the present have been his personal army, without any formally-expressed allegiance to the crown. The militia won't let him.

He says he will bring his party back to legality—an acknowledgment that it has burst beyond those bounds. But, Europe is wondering if he is big enough to do so, or if he unwillingly will be projected on a crest of lawlessness to greater power or to oblivion.

More than one student of the situation believes the latter is what will happen.

Original Army & Navy Store Attracts Crowds

A wild scramble took place at 8:30 o'clock this morning outside the original Army & Navy store at 201 South Brand boulevard.
When Steven W. Huntington, proprietor, made good his promise to throw hundreds of dollars' worth of goods from the roof, to advertise the opening of his "Farewell Sale" that marks the windup of this popular store, which will go out of business as soon as the stock can be liquidated.

So great was the throng which gathered to take advantage of this unusual opportunity, that Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department was forced to assign special officers to handle the crowd. When the doors swung open at 9 o'clock there was a surge that immediately jammed the store, leaving scores of eager bargain seekers impatiently waiting on the outside for their turn to buy.

When Mr. Huntington found that his advertisement of this sale had drawn more people than he had anticipated, he was obliged to close the doors and announce that those already in the store would be waited on before more were admitted. All morning and well into the afternoon the throngs kept pouring to the scene, where they stood patiently waiting their turn to obtain some of the many sensational bargains in army and navy goods, camping and hiking materials and work clothes.

A number of extra salespeople were required to handle the hundreds of buyers, and the large stock fairly melted away before the onslaught of bargain seekers, who left the store burdened with bundles, their faces clearly expressive of intense satisfaction in their purchases. The sale will continue every day until the stock is exhausted, according to Mr. Huntington, who states that within thirty days the premises positively must be vacated.

Theatre Players Lay Plans for Fall Work

The Little Theatre Players of Community Service met Wednesday night at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce and made plans for the season's work. All present were very enthusiastic about the presentation of plays.
In the absence of Mrs. Max Lynn Greene, chairman of the drama department of Community Service, R. Ernest Tucker presided at the meeting.

Tuesday night Mr. Tucker obtained permission of the board of education for the Little Theatre Players to use the Glendale Avenue school stage for rehearsals and productions. Joe Griffin was elected as director for the first production and George Hastings was appointed stage manager. The following committee was appointed to select a group of three plays: Mrs. Max Lynn Greene, Mrs. Malvern Barker, Joe Griffin and R. Ernest Tucker. This committee will meet next Wednesday night to make the selection. The next meeting of the Little Theatre
Players will be held at the Glendale Avenue school, October 8.

Glendale Creamery Co. Sales Force Banquets

Various angles of the theme,
"Making Salesmen Out of Milk-men," were discussed at the regular quarterly banquet of the Glendale
Creamery Co. sales force, held last night at Al Cawood's
Egyptian Village, 133 North
Brand boulevard. H. D. Lockwood, salesmanager, presiding. There were twenty present. The principal address was given by T. J.
Tanzy of the F. C. Matthews Co., an eastern firm. Mr. Tanzy chose "Salesmanship" for his topic and in a strong talk drove home the up-to-date principles that have recently been revolutionizing this field.

Talks were also made by W. P.
MacMullin, president of the Glendale Creamery Co., whose plant is located at 755 West Doran street, and by his son, Smith MacMullin, treasurer and manager of the company. Each stressed some phase of salesmanship, the elder MacMullin declaring that the old-fashioned milk peddler has been transformed into a modern efficient salesman of dairy products.
